I watermark all my PDFs that I deliver after an order, so I can find out when they've been leaked and trace it back to the source. This user has done so with one of my methods on a competing forum, and is degrading the integrity of the community.

I would warn other sellers to avoid selling to this guy, as you will be compromising your methods if you do so.

People care, because this is a strong community of people who aren't here to steal from each other or their potential profits. You're clearly just another LQ troll who doesn't understand the fundamentals of business or community.

Very very smart and impressive my friend I do this as well.

Its a flawless system I put code into each ebook that know one knows about.

I also have been finding some of my methods and tutorials leaked its fucked up.

People are fucking useless scum thanks for the heads up bro.

It really is so irritating, especially when you've put a fair bit of effort into what you're creating to benefit others. It always pays to watermark or make orders unique to customers so you can work out who is leaking! Sorry you've had to go through this too!

Yeah all my stuff I post public on threads are copied and pasted, since I post it open source I dont care if people share it but least leave credit and its creepy seeing things I posted word for word being posted by some one else that whole site can fuck its self tbh hope they get shut down it is really irritating man. I had a sms verification method that got saturated because of this same very reason. I no longer deal with reg members because I find them the ones to be leaking. I honestly hope this dude gets banned. And I am sorry this happened to you to man I slapped that dude with a -3 lol note : i also buy a lot of methods and ebooks from this forum , and i never share any method i buy your method , i buy edu mail method , and i also buy laferrari method , amazon gift card method , i buy ewhore method from redmond reddington , i never share any method ,

- also guys you can ask this guy Vyrez : Hack Forums - Profile of Vyrez. someone is told me info about his method but i never accept it and i never leak or sad any word about it , please guys stop punish me , this is son of b....ch is leak him ebook and the email is not my own , its not my fault and not my nulled account

i also deal with sonex in the past , his method not working with me but i never share his ebook

- you can check nulled profil hassano10 and hassano100 , its my own and its banned . and he is with 00 threads ,

If this is true you are ratted or something then should check out your PC.

He is saying he gave you a ebook with its own water mark different then the rest.

Then that ebook became public no hard feelings but it is on you since that was your own individual eBook with its own individual water mark you got caught in a flawless leak prevention system.

bro , i buy from this guy using stealth paypal email , and i use the email of my partner to recive the delvrey (so this email will be shown in watermark , but after few days this guy is change password access to this email , he use his own phone number , i cant recover it , after that he stole the paypal account password + ebay , he cost me 200 $ of ready earning in paypal , and also stole facebook business and twitter and large instagram page , and many other sites and forums , i lost lot of things and money , did you think i will care about share a stupid ebook that worth 4 $ and have public niche (there are a hundreds of sellers infiverr use this niche) , no i no thing so ,

- and this days i always message and waiting leferrari to get updates about his methods and waiting his help , believe me men , i not do it , but i will call this mother fucker to delete this thread from nulled , i will try to do something that make the chaos killer trust me again .

I never mentioned Nulled, so you've basically confirmed for me that it was you, as it could have been any forum I was referring to. It may only be a small order and a small amount of money, but these sales help bankroll bigger projects, so this is serious to me. Personally, I don't really see how I can believe you as there is no way to prove that you did not do this, unless you can show evidence of being breached/taken advantage of.

Also, sending me a PM with the following content in it makes me want to believe you or empathise with you much less:

"please tell your slaves to stop send negative rating to my profil , to be honest , your ebook is boothshit , i read it and forget it , so dont be a kid , it not worth his money and also not spend time to leak him ," i sad nulled because the leaker is tell me about this , before you post this thread , i ask him to delete it but he still not reply me , and yes your method is not deserve leaking , because is public , if you not believe me you are free , i not care about you or your friends who give negative reps without confirmations ,

- i not leak your ebook , my old partner is do this , and this is not my fault , good bye

Wait wait wait, so you're in contact with the leaker, and he decided to inform you ahead of me posting this thread that he had leaked MY method that I sold to YOU, but you didn't think to make it known? ? Not even remotely believable! This method is not 'public' apart from when you leaked it, and you best believe that I will do what I deem necessary to make this even as you have effectively taken money out of my pocket by doing so.

You, pal, are an imbecile.

That community alert was closed for being spurious, and because you and others simply misunderstood everything from the get go.

That user wanted to buy something but wanted me to jump through hoops to deliver it, and to essentially give up my contact to a middleman and potentially burn the contact if they decided not to go ahead with the sale.

Obviously, no one in their right mind would do this when you're talking about a HUGE earner.

Then, another user got in touch and bought it, and that was that.

The idiot that made the fraudulent alert got pissy about it saying I was an asshole (without saying why or justifying the abuse), and made said alert, but had it closed on them.

You all got it in your minds that because the person who bought it from me was new, and had matching IPs to other members, that it must be me, despite the fact that my Trust Scan showed that not to be the case.

You then sent abuse to that member, and they had to report you all for it.

You are quite simply a fool, and that's the reason why I put you on ignore.

I do not need your advice, this language does not interest me, life goes on without it and does not interfere between me and the seller, and it is enough to inflate the subject. Believe it or not, do as you please because frankly it took a lot of my time, you can send more, because from now on I don't care about you,
