Stop wasting money on cracked useless SMTPs !!!

allhaxors - November 11, 2019, 3:45 am

Brother 10/10 , bypass filter two different works
use before PMTA 4.5 r11 but not good for office etc

Dragonvixs - November 11, 2019, 4:04 am

SMTP can not be automated Mandator. It needs to be build and tested to all inbox properly. PMTA get's 10/10 but inbox isn't guarantied. I try using PMTA 4.5 and 5 as a coder and the result was bad. Maybe yours will be diffrent. Good luck on you selles

Mandator - November 11, 2019, 4:52 am

Thats what i said in the first post... if anyone think good smtp is enough for inbox they are so wrong. Warming ip , aged domain , hq letter , clean list and many more things. But using an HQ smtp is a good start instead of cracked shit.

Read my above post... you think of not inboxing office is just smtp ? And the 10/10 is just a proof of well made smtp.. for inbox office many more things are needed, dont blame SMTP for everything lol

Is like saying i got a car but i dont know how to drive it
So the car shit.

zelus - November 11, 2019, 8:17 am

Please, provide proof you are using PMTA v 5.0 and not cracked 4.5.

And you are building it for $15.

how convenient.

If the PMTA he is using isn't encrypted it 4.5 but that still don't change the fact that inbox isn't guarantied on PMTA 4.5 and 5

Everything you said before is correct. Am just curious on his claim of having V5.0

I always get 10/10 with my 4.5.

However, first thing to avoid when using PMTA is the big 3 if you dont know how to tweek the config file to send to them a little by little (which still guarantees nothing).

PMTA is always best when your leads is webmails and other mails with less aggressive spam filters.

Plus, Most build SMTP and start using the postmaster with the port 587.

Since no single App sold on HF supports the use of SMTP built from PMTA, how are these guys using it?

Nullled mamura and mailwizz?

Nullled mamura and mailwizz i guess. because SquirrelMail is the worst webapp coding added to PMTA inbox office365 is not related to the SMTP only.

My SMTP can inbox everywhere.. but if you spam scampage, malicious files attached, and crap like that, you need accept the risk of hit the spam folder.

if anyone offer you an SMTP saying will hit 100% inbox without warning you about the above things, you need to be ready to lose your money.

if you buy a ferrari dont mean you will win the championship... you need know how to drive. ?

How long does your SMTP last??? depend what you are delivering obviously.... it hit inbox in all email service providers??? depend what you are delivering obviously....

for question 2 i usually set 500 emails per hour you can go up to 10k x hour... more fast you send more fast smtp will die ?

there is nothing special or hard to do...

The Infos you will get are like that:

---> SMTP data

- Email address: info@domain.com
- User: info
- Password: vip3491d**

- Receiving via IMAP:
- Secure connection = STARTTLS / Port: 143

- Sending via SMTP:
- Insecure Connection / Port: 2525

- Webmail address: http://domain.com/webmail
- User: info
- Password: vip3491**

Man you said you were okay with the "procurement" it takes about 5 - 10 mins to change it from procurement to joseph. So man am not sure you made any loss buying PMTA smtp and webmail for 15 usd. Its pretty cheap and affordable

Guy just got so angry he blew his HF acc apart ahahahaha

PS guys you can see the procurement mistake, should have been Joseph

Dude i can get it to go to Yahoo, Aol, Yandex mail, iCloud mail, godaddy, 163, 126, 139, qq, hinet, all webmails.

You don't have to speak ill of his product.

It doesn't hit Gmail/Hotmail inbox. Office 365 included.

But every other email is inbox, depending on your letter and sender

Yeah you can still bypass SPF but not DKIM and DMARC sender identification security. On some mailbox provider it enough to inbox !
