Thread: Have some money to invest in projects/assets - Nothing black/gray hat

b0untyhunt3r - November 9, 2019, 3:09 pm

I have ~$600 USD to invest. Do not message me with blackhat/grayhat projects or your dream ideas. If you do not already have tangible results or a foundation built, you must at least provide something other than your idea that I can invest in, ie, your experience/skill set/business plan.

I am a programmer and am open to actively participating in management/development activities but would generally like to remain a silent investor.

Please do not ask me to add you on Discord/Skype/Telegram without first giving a brief overview of your project. I'm not interested in methods.

I'm also interested in buying things like domain names at reseller prices, IG accounts, etc.

I am asking for $1,500 in exchange for 5% stake in my company. This is a serious offer, do not troll me.

I'm potentially interested in this tbh.

Do you have discord so we can discuss this further?

Or was this offer specifically aimed towards OP only?

Just out of interest, what languages are you proficient in?

Java, Javascript, and Python. I started with Java. Then I learned a little Javascript to play around with dev tools and made some tampermonkey scripts. And Python to do trading bots at first but I'm concentrating less on that now. I'd still like to develop an arbitrage model in the future. I've been using Python the most recently but I'm thinking of using Java for a big personal project.

I have a project which is currently stopped due to lack of funding and development issues. Please PM with your Discord. It is a Bitcoin project, I also have funds to put in (Can show adequate proofs if required) but needs a partner to split costs for some stake.

Greetings

Have a look on my e-commerce thread

runegg - December 7, 2019, 4:36 am

I really want to show you my project, but I don't have enough posts to send you messages yet.

I'm sure you would be interested in this though, so HMU asap.

I have a lot of experience in my niche, and I'm also a programmer (Web developer) and have a prototype ready. (Need a bit of re-design)

I'm seeking funding to support my life at this point(Personal funding), and to get the first marketing videos out there for the project.

Regards.

I've updated the thread to include interest in buying digital assets, ie, domain names, IG accounts, YouTube channels, etc.

h0lybyte - December 16, 2019, 11:29 pm

I just sent you a PM, let me know if you might have interest :P

I also have several other entities that might be of interest, lmk via private.

What a disgusting and messed up idea. This was already invented too and has been closed down numerous times.
