No one will do it free of course. But I don't think that her cheating has anything to do with child support. You just need to deal with the situation how it is.

Can't you just take it to court? Lol

Do it underhandedly and you might just get a restraining order ?

If shes your ex wife. You should know a lot of details about her.

1) Try "forgot password" on her email account and facebook.
Maybe you know the security questions.

Facebooks 2-factor-auth may be a issue

2) Try (1) on her email for facebook (hotmail, gmail, etc..)

3) You probably know her password just don't know it. If you're really her ex.
(babysnameDATE , birthday, etc)

Look for her phone's password secretly..

when she will be sleeping , siletnly take away her phone and unlock it.

open her facebook... see her fb -email id
and in your phone try to login into her fb account, click on forgot password, facebook will send a confirmation email to her gmail or an otp to her phone number,
see those things from her phone and

change her password,
login to her facebook and there ya go!
