Biggy - November 14, 2019, 10:26 am

They have a week trial, so just go signup and see if you like it. If not, then cancel

I heard they have every single sims9ns season. You'll have to check it out because who knows what's on there.

I think hulu has all the seasons to.
I checked it out a little bit decided not to get it even tho I could get a free trail.
I do love the national geo graphics tho but that was about all that really interested me.
I heard there really buggy right now to Definitely get it! It's like Netflix. You won't regret it!

wiz - November 20, 2019, 8:27 pm

The best thing is to find a friend to share a subscription, then get it :)

I started my 30 day free trial the other day strictly because of the Star Wars content. Marvel is a nice touch as well, I'd say it's worth paying for as well! Not a bad price for what's available.

Cheddar Cheese - November 22, 2019, 6:43 am may you try the free trial first then decide to buy it or not

MavenGradle - November 22, 2019, 6:52 am

Remember back in the day when it was just Netflix and pretty much everything was on it? Well, ever since that stopped being the case, I'm decidedly against streaming services and starting using other means of consuming content.

Streaming is becoming the new cable TV. It's atrocious.

I paid 4.99 for Netflix for unlimited screens years ago. Now I pay $18 a month for the same thing with less content.

Day 1 I was super hype for it

But now, i haven't watched much on it. I'm never really in the mood for a throwback

I let my son watch the lion king and he liked it tho

JackyJ - November 22, 2019, 11:53 pm

I think it's worth it imma buy it soon

Dr34dm0nk3y - November 23, 2019, 8:27 pm

My kids absolutely love it, and we got a 3 year deal where you pay up front for 2 years and get the 3rd free.

There are also a lot of old shows/movies that really bring back memories.
