I really enjoy how fluidly the movements are. Everything fits together so smooth and elegant. Great job! ?

I like it. Its a sleek and simple design, always better to have something simple than overcomplicated and have to much going on. I feel like there is something off about the clouds of smoke though. I just cant put my finger out it.

BADHERO I - December 16, 2019, 9:04 am

What program/s did you use?

Yep thats what it was! Do you have the other design? Maybe compare the two and see what the people say? Always good to have multiple opinions with two designs to choose from. Even if its just a something small in changes like the transparent clouds over the lettering.

Sure, So here's the OP (with mid blue overlay):

...and the one without the overlay:

It might be just me but i think the last one without any overlay looks the cleanest. Maybe see what others say? Either way they all look good. But the OP and one without overlay look the best.

Obviously a good work, but not my style. I prefer more complex things, and other colours, although that's just my opinion.

SyrupSplashin - December 31, 2019, 12:13 pm

Placement is a little strange and the text gets real close to becoming one with that exhaust but it's sleek and has smooth animation
