Thread: WIP Thread Designs

Psilocybe - November 21, 2019, 10:05 pm

Hey all, recently decided to give my first thread design(s) a try. I'm no where near done and plan to use these for myself, would like to hear what you all have to say about what I have so far. Feel free to be honest, but please do include recommendations if you don't like things.

If these are your first ones, then they are actually really great

I don't really have much to say other than saying that this is far too incomplete to even share and post.

It's like spending 5 minutes creating something and then rushing to share it. Work in progress as you said, so I don't wanna come off as harsh, but I'm not exactly impressed.

Personally, If I'm going to share, I'd rather post complete work.

Thanks for all your kind words!! I used Photoshop to make both of these, I haven't returned to them since posting this to finish but I'm considering finishing them up then releasing them to Hackforums for free! Appreciate it all :))
