Thread: Gunbot V15 \(Ultimate Patch \) Automated cryptocurrency trading bot

exploit.exe - November 27, 2019, 4:25 am

This is a hacked version. I bought a regular one for a long time...

Here is the description from the official site:

Gunbot allows you to fully automate your trading. Using community-developed strategies, even novice traders can take advantage of opportunities in volatile cryptocurrency markets.

For experienced traders, Gunbot is ideal for performing custom strategies on a large number of trading pairs or for automating certain parts of the trade – for example, averaging down

5 exchanges

All strategies

24/7 support

Reversal Trading

Cryptosight

Ready strategies

Tradingview

Is this legit? And have you made any money from it?

Yes! I bought a lite version. This version supports five exchanges, not one. And there are ready-made strategies regardless if this is "hacked" or not, you need a wallet with Gunthy ERC Tokens to run the BOT. Even if you use a random Address with tokens, then the bot will throw an invalid license key.

Is there anyway you can help me to set it up or just follow there tutorials on there website? And how safe is it with losing money?

Right, and not just that. I see no single good reason to use hacked programs for your crypto.

op why didnt you share a link of the developer's website? Where did you get the hacked version from?

LordMan is absolutely right! If you use "hacked" software when it comes to crypto, your coins will vanish faster than you can take a comfortable dump. Even if the bot might not have the api key to withdraw your coins directly from your account, it still could have a feature built in which allows it to buy an absolute shitcoin for an absolute ridiculous price with your balance. That way, the hacker could still get your funds.

If you want to use a trading bot there are only three "reasonable" choices:

1. Buy a licence for a well known trading bot, e.g. gunbot
2. Look for a cheaper open source alternative and build the trading strategies yourself, e.g. gekko
3. Or build your own trading bot from scratch.

Best regards,

Vox

Also what is pretty weird by checking the files on VT (Virus Total)

It came to an detection rate of 16.

When downloading the official files of Gunbot it came to 0.

Also i was unable to see version V15 anywhere on the web (at least no official version from Gunbot itself)

I liked that version 15 part too.

Bro, minimal research is needed to find out what you are dealing with.
