Thread: What Are You ThankFul For?

MoneyPowerSuccess - November 28, 2019, 7:11 am

First off,

HackForums! Happy Thanksgiving, I figured it be a good warming forum feel if we all express what we are thankful for today! For members who are overseas and don't celebrate you are more than welcome to also post positivity here too.

Hopefully we can all come together and post some positive vibes here!

Anyways, ill start! ?

I am thankful for all the hard work that 2019 has bought me, especially since this has been the toughest year or my decade! I have been through so many challenges and pain that it isn't even funny! I keep on pushing on tho and I have met my huge slowly coming success. Life has not been the most easy as I have made many choices, some have benefited me and some have costed me dearly.

I am thankful that change is finally going to come after all this crazy dramatic year. 2020 for the win baby! Plus I get to eat a bunch of food.

Lets keep the love going! ?

I don't celebrate thanksgiving but this year I guess I'm thankful for fixing my money situation. For being deep in debt, to having a very healthy bank balance. Even though it doesn't make me very happy. Hopefully the success continues throughout 2020 for me and for everyone :-)

I'm thankful for nothing, I've earned everything I fought for this year

hayesh - December 2, 2019, 5:28 am not having my home blown away during Hurricane Dorian

Unexplained - December 2, 2019, 5:30 am

I'm thankful for my health and family.
