Thread: lost Gauth 2-Factor Authentication.

pro0 - November 30, 2019, 8:53 am

Hi

I lost access to Gauth but still have my account and email access, is there any way to fix this and login to my account ?

I need it because its upgraded and there is some friends here with a kind of trust with my nickname.

its very sad to lose old registration , badges , bytes and friends here :)

but some times you need to start again.

For notes, when you decide to uses Gauth, just makes sure to back up auth Code below the BBCode on notepad, thats is important thing that you can recover Gauth when you lost your phone or installed new one.

How long ago was this, because I thought I seen not too long ago that you can recover but for a fee.

I must be mistaken idk.

You could pay for a recovery, roughly $25. Kids started bitching about the fee and now recovery is no longer an option.

Oh man that sucks! I would pay much more than 25 and still be ok with it if I lost my account..

this^

My account is priceless to me, I would be devastated if I lost it ?

You pay nothing because it is no longer an option.

Dang, I didn't know there was ever conflict over it tbh. I just thought he decided to stop having it handled. I guess that was while I was away. I got mine for free quite a while ago.
