I've already repped you in the past, so if my entry doesn't count please consider this a bump to your thread so that new members can keep seeing it and hopefully get in on the hype. As you say, it's about $7 at the moment, but in a month or two that could be enough for a new member to upgrade and contribute to the community, so that's great!

100% true. It was a cleaner until people started using vinyl wallpaper that could be washed with water. When people stopped buying it they discovered that kids liked to play with it, so they took out some cleaning chemicals and added a nice scent and color.
