Thread: If I get raided, what about my doors?

CH00k - December 3, 2019, 4:38 am

Lets say I live alone, and some angry neighbours call the cops on me for whatever reasons. The cops arrive and they have to bust down my doors cause I don't hear them.

What about the doors? What is going to happen to them? I can't simply left my house without doors and I don't think someone is going to be guarding the entry 24/7.

Hmmm?? Ideas? I don't want to get my stuff stolen.

PrinceOfTruth - December 3, 2019, 4:54 am

Well I'm sure they would reimburse you, however I doubt you are even raided.

I don't know about that, however read the title again "IF I GET" not that "I GOT". This is just hypothetical situation.

another one? god damnit.. stop with these posts

Silent Uprising - December 3, 2019, 5:36 am

Just keep your doors open. Can't barge in and break down your doors if they're already wide open.

What should I do now? Everyone can still Clay Davis from me or like what? thanks. Another troll thread, you really have some issues don't you.

Moon Clown - December 3, 2019, 9:20 am

Some people just need to be raided. OP is one of them.

You can use trash bags and plastic tarps for your door. It works good for meth dealers ;)

all of these you are making lol. next thread will be "If I had a 3 foot long cock should I still use a rubber?" LOL

(Dec 3, 2019 10:23 AM)php Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Simplest method would be once you bail out go to Home Depot and either get a new door then and there or get a screw on bolt lock that you can temporarily use until you replace the door.

best thing to do to prevent clay davis is to just have an extra bolt lock that you dont use. So IF YOU ARE RAIDED you can use that bolt lock to lock the door even if they break the others. but I suggest you just open the door when they knock because unless you are selling drugs/guns etc.. you will not be raided like that. You could also always just post a sign on your door saying if this is a raid to knock first because you will open up lol

Done.

Please rate my change if you want to.

Nuworld - December 3, 2019, 3:33 pm

Don't worry about your doors because you'll get new ones.

(Steel doors with bars that only open from the outside)

BTW: there free.

Not sure what third world country you live in but I don't see them busting down your doors over loud music.

If you don't own the property they will probably get the landlord to get a key and open the door to make sure you're a live.

Roberto Scorpius Malfoy - December 3, 2019, 4:57 pm

They gonna make sure to sort out something that blocks people from entering your house, my guess would be that they would replace your door with a new door, and then the taxpayers would have to pay you the money for your broken door.
