Thread: Mobile Notifications

Omniscient - December 9, 2019, 11:14 am

Currently on Android the notifications are working great. How many of you are using them though?

We are working on an app for iOS we hope to have done by January 2020.

If by chance when the notification on your browser was dismissed and you need it back to enable please LMK and maybe we can write up a blog tutorial on how to do that.

flavoral - December 9, 2019, 11:19 am

Yeah been using phone notification since it was released, it's really useful.

wiz - December 9, 2019, 11:20 am

Hmmm didn't work in my Android, gotta give it another look and see if it was disabled.

Yup like a noob, it was blocked.

did you get a notification for this?

Mr Kewl - December 9, 2019, 12:09 pm

I love the notification its so much easier with the notification to see if there is an update than visit the site and find out.

Alex - December 9, 2019, 12:18 pm

Not getting any notifications on my android even when enabled. I sometimes get it when I'm on pc, but not always

I just blocked and enabled notifications again in the browser settings on my phone, could anyone quote me to test? Thanks

Boomer - December 9, 2019, 12:20 pm

I don't have an Android but I am excited as fuck to try this IOS app!

Bluffer - December 9, 2019, 12:20 pm

I've been using the notifications and definitely helps when I'm not near PC. Very useful.

Rally the Bulls - December 9, 2019, 12:20 pm

I almost exclusively browse HF on mobile these days. Notifications work great for me, and I love that they're responsive if I'm at the slots. :)

Do you keep Chrome open? It may not grab notifications unless you have the app closed.

The app was open. Just did a factory reset of the browser, enabled notifications for the site and closed the application.

Lets see if it works now

Stoked for the IOS app.

An app will greatly increase the registrations and general activity on the forum.

Ravioli - December 9, 2019, 4:11 pm

Wait, the app is only going to be for ios?

Nachfolger - December 9, 2019, 4:13 pm

Haven't enabled mobile notifications, but I actively use the desktop ones. Works great because I'm very popular and people need me constantly.

Thanks again, my friend.

Sir - December 9, 2019, 4:55 pm

I've only bee seeing notifications from Popularity received, it'd be nice if it showed when I was quoted.

You should get those too.

I guess I'll just close my browser and wait for someone to quote this post just to double-check. Maybe I'm just low-key ignorant.

SoulZeh - December 9, 2019, 5:06 pm

Nobody ever quotes me so I don't get notifications :(

Private Messages and Quotes were disabled. I never recall disabling quoted posts at all though. Oh well.

wiz - December 9, 2019, 9:59 pm

Just an FYI if your notification are not working.

Me and Omni tried a few things only to find out my chrome browser had lite mode on.

To disable lite mode go to the 3 dots on top, settings and turn off lite mode.

Evanescent - December 9, 2019, 10:52 pm

So far I am liking it.

When this first came out, I was not able to click the notification to be redirected to HF.

From few days, I'm able to click the notifications as well to get redirected to HF.

I'm using Brave browser. May be something to do with the updates.

Overall, I like the system.

It took us a couple days to sort that out. There is still more fine-tuning to do.

I'm using notifications on my note 10 with chrome.

Works perfect and is extremely usefull, one of the best features released lately, thanks for that, really.

spiral - December 10, 2019, 11:16 am

Damn, can't wait for iOS support. Something like this makes me jealous of Android users rn.

Yeah it is really awesome and usefull to have, it really is.

Omniscient - December 10, 2019, 12:45 pm

btw, if you're on HF from your Desktop, you also may not get notifications to your mobile.

So let's say you're on-site and you see 3 notifications, but you're on HF. Your phone won't get the push as long as you're here

At least that's the behavior I see. When I'm not home and my desktop is off, I get a lot of HF notifications.

So they only get sent under certain circumstances. You don't just get them constantly.

This makes me want to partake. I hate getting a bunch of notifications on my phone but I'm always on HF on desktop.

eXceptional - December 10, 2019, 9:06 pm

I use 3 platforms to access Hack Forums Desktop, Android and iOS. I only receive popularity notifications on my Android.

Vyrkfrir - December 11, 2019, 5:51 am

I have disabled half of them. They change quite annoying when you get quite a few small notifications throughout the day. Still nice to see when private messages come through however.

NoSuchAgency - December 11, 2019, 11:59 am

As an Android user these notifications are amazing. Really like it.

MavenGradle - December 11, 2019, 12:13 pm

Is there a statistic that shows how many users enabled this feature in their browsers? I personally block all such requests for all sites so I didn't even notice the popup.

Not to bash on the feature but I'm purely interested in user engagement, if such a thing is available, for research purposes.

SIM-1729678 - December 11, 2019, 12:17 pm

How does one enable these on Android? Using Brave browser and would love to test this out.

On another note, I haven't gotten my normal notifications either, is there anything wrong with it that anyone is aware of?
