Due to lack of communities that focusing on darkweb topics we decided to create this social media as service for community. To connect the dark net

Join the community and get/share latest updates on Darknet topics, markets, and vendor shops.

Onion link will be available also

This is because Darkweb affiliated sites generally get shut down shortly after launch.. the Darkweb is on the Darkweb for a reason, let's leave it there instead of trying to bring everything that's in the Dark, to the light.

That is very true, and i am also working on that right now

Under hosting i have postet about it, onion link is available very shortly

It will be made so clearnet is set up, with an onion link

i have made a new for this so delete please!

i cannot edit for some reason, i spend some minutes looking around, it seems like there arent any edit option for some reason, my thoughts could be when someone quotes your post, it makes it not possible to edit anymore, and now that i have a new post about this but better written, i hope this will get deleted, and i wont get a slap on the hand for reposting.

Due to a lack of communities that are focusing on deepweb topics, we decided to create this social media as a service for the community to connect the deepweb. Join us and get/share all latest updates, on deep web topics, markets, and alot more exciting.

A mention of the deep web can bring to mind images of drugs, hackers, and other criminal activity. Despite the presence of these elements, the Tor network is a valuable tool for preserving privacy and anonymity.

Share this with your friends and family so they can benefit from all the knwoledge there is here

We gonna Take back the Darknet, and make it safe again. 1 day at a time.

Sites like these aren't marketable to the public. I'd say you'll end this project in the next few months.

I'd give you critique but it requires a login to get into the website. But login page looks nice. Haha
