Thread: Plan on starting a YouTube channel!

Sunnibeta - December 15, 2019, 8:29 pm

I plan on starting a YouTube when I get my next car! I plan on getting a 2015 M4 for a decent price. Mark my words. Very big things happening in 2020!

genesiseher - December 15, 2019, 8:30 pm

actions speak louder then words noob

Good luck buddy, YouTube is great until they start demonitizing videos for no reason.

What will the channel be about?

Ooof, that sounds to me like they've done the same thing to you before.. ouch. That's one of the reasons I'm hesitant on starting at YouTube..

It's random and yes you can't brag about awards.

This was definitely posted as a reply to a comment on the wrong thread, lol. Nonetheless, I wasn't bragging. It was made perfectly clear.

Ive heard some mixed things about the M4. Doesn't it have a water tank in the trunk?

AwakenGP - December 15, 2019, 8:51 pm

Good luck broski. Always good to manifest it

My post was fairly close to yours, but do as you wish.

To each their own, I suppose. I can edit my thread and leave it blank if it would make you feel any better.. I didn't mean to get under anyone's skin or cause anyone to feel some type of way towards me for it.

I will be doing mods to it. Stage 2 tune, installing downpipes, doing donuts, pov driving, meets with other friends!

Treat it as a hobby rather than trying to make it ur full time job is what I hear utubers tell people starting off youtube

Slim - December 16, 2019, 12:00 pm

Why are you thinking of starting the channel AFTER you get your car...?

I dig the new avatar.

spiral - December 16, 2019, 1:14 pm

good luck, hope it goes well for you!

Who Soup - December 16, 2019, 1:16 pm

Best of luck, I hope eventually the ad revenue offsets the cost of repairs that you're planing on doing to your car!

I would love to make YouTube my full time job.

I dig the new avatar.

I currently own a Acura TLX. No mods can really be done to it. Simple stuff like tints, muffler delete, etc. I wanna go all out with the M4.
