Thread: Do you like a friend who is straightforward or a dumb friend?

Unconsciously - December 16, 2019, 5:01 am

Don't pretend to reveal the "evil" or "vulgar" side of human nature and society. Such revelation will cause you to be labeled "evil" or "vulgar".

I don't discriminate either way it goes .. but, if you're going to claim to be my friend, I would expect for you to be as straightforward and upfront with me as you could be. Don't keep anything hidden, because if I consider you my friend I wouldn't keep anything from you, either.

AwakenGP - December 16, 2019, 5:10 am

I like someone who is straightforward with me and won't be a "Yes" man

Agreed. My friend once had a friend who would agree with him about every single thing. If friend 1 was doing something, friend 2 did it. If friend 1 had an opinion, friend 2 had the same opinion.

I don't think that's proper friendship. Friends should disagree on things and be brutal and honest with each other!!

Straightforward is essential. If you can't be real with me, I'd rather you be fake without me.

spradebassen - December 16, 2019, 6:20 am

I like being straight forward myself, even if it hurts to tell them the truth they always get it.

I'd like the same favor to be returned

Straight up I hate fake people and cut them out of my life.

Rally the Bulls - December 16, 2019, 6:28 am

Why would anyone want a dumb friend who can't even be honest? Tad perplexed.

Be gentle with others and don't assume that you are reminding others of your flaws and exposing others' self-deception.

Some people would rather these types of people in their lives just to feel more superior with intellect or anything else.. Society is twisted, to say the least.

Yes treat people how you want to be treated

Unconsciously - December 16, 2019, 7:15 am

The honest friends I know are very easy to get along with, because they are kind-hearted, straightforward and gentle, and know how to think for others.

Mullet Muscle - December 16, 2019, 7:36 am

I expect everyone to be as straight forward to me as I am to them. If you feel some type of way against me or towards me, tell me.

CH00k - December 16, 2019, 7:39 am straightforward friends only.

dumb friends are only friends I know I can go somewhere and I know I'm not the dumbest person lol, but not a person I would like to have something serious with.

hayesh - December 16, 2019, 8:06 am

I prefer a straight forward friend dumb people are dangerous and cause harm.

Silent Uprising - December 16, 2019, 9:49 am

I'm a dumb friend but I'm still honest to my friends lol. I'm not the smartest and have pretty dope ideas which are wild asf and often dumb but I'm still honest to my mates

Ghost* - December 16, 2019, 10:17 am

I'm dumb he so are my friends.

Slim - December 16, 2019, 11:45 am

I like both. I've never met anyone as clever as myself, so I have concluded that everyone is as clever as me and really good at hiding it. I'd be stupid to think anything else. So i'm a sus bean.

Dumb people are only dangerous if you're a bad person.

Then it will be welcome because others feel that this person is kind, has no intention, and treats others with sincerity.

In the name of being upright, people who deliberately or unintentionally disparage others, deny others, and casually blame others feel that such people are really bad.

Prepper - December 17, 2019, 11:58 pm

It doesn't bother me but I would prefer people to be straight forward with me.

FRAUDSTER - December 19, 2019, 2:46 pm

Of course straightforward, how is this even a question? What are the benefits of dumb friend?
