Great catch mate ty. I copied and pasted, but didn't change it on THIS forum.

Yes the chance to acquire any codes has ended December 31st.

However there is a limited amount of codes left and they are being increased by price as quantity lowers.

These codes however, can be redeemed by JANUARY 15th!

For the people re-shipping be careful.

When I got mine (not from this seller) but had it sent from the US to the UK the Google Home Mini would not function properly and all features weren't available because it was a US version.

End up just tossing mine away and cost me a fortune in custom fees, it would have literally been cheaper to buy one brand new on sale at the time I bought mine, even though I got the code for a few dollars.

So buyers be wary, not the sellers fault obviously but people should be aware.
