Wish everyone a merry christmas, if you don't celebrate christmas then happy holidays and spend your time with family and friends and also take this opportunity to stop worrying about life and take a break. Sometimes just taking your mind of everything and relax. Everyone deserves a break.

Wish peace and joy to all those in the new year.

TheChaosKiller - December 24, 2019, 8:34 am

Very nice idea, so thank you on behalf of everyone for doing this. I will be celebrating alone as my family are no longer with me, so it will likely be a quiet day and then I'll be handing out meals to the homeless in the evening. Hopefully going to be surprising a friend with a hamper of things to get her through to the New Year, so looking forward to that!
