Thread: I want to watch One Piece

SIM-2848601 - December 25, 2019, 2:47 pm

I already watched one piece from episode one until the basic characters recruited and stop there.

I want to watch it again, i am asking what episode or part should I start and still understand the flow of it?

I'd start at the beginning again and marathon it. I'm not a fan of anime in general but one piece is one of those few shows that I REALLY like.

Long live Imu Sama ?

If you don't mind spoilers/missing big details the first time they happen then you could start there and rewatch the rest after you're done. That'd be episode 579.

Thanks mate, i'll start at 579 :)

Just skip the fillers and watch at 1.5 speed for boring parts.

Its a good series.

On 2nd thought it would be helpful to know where you think you left off exactly. And if it wasn't implied already, I agree with the others that you should definitely start over, possibly with the manga.

I didn't read any manga before, so it would be a challenge for me.

Watch it from where you left it, one piece makes a lot of references to the past and I think it's worth to watch everything to enjoy the experience the the fullest

Good luck ?

So many episodes. I need to start re watching it one of these days.

I'm currently at 750 silvermine. Dressrosa arc was one of the most BORING arcs imo.

Graybyte - January 11, 2020, 3:19 pm

I just started it too. Im on EP 15. Still got a long road ahead lmao

One piece gets better after every arc tbh.
