Anyone else absolutely hate spending hours getting hundreds of mods installed and setup for a single game?

Its like you cant stop because you need to bring the game to a higher level of perfection.

Then I start up the game with all the mods and find it boring anyways and realize I just wasted hours of my life for nothing.

I used to be like this when I could be bothered, nowadays I'll configure what I want and save myself the effort for the rest.

Then again, I am quite lazy these days.

Yeah I used to really love modding games as a kid. I don't really have much time for it now and I don't really have a good gaming PC anymore.

I don't play video games anymore but when I did, I didn't play a single game without doing something to it lol

Never found the free time to mod any games, tbh.
