Simply say no and move on also where did he contact you on HF?

There is no need to create a thread over it.

Mycroft Holmes - December 28, 2019, 10:20 pm

Wow, just wow.

1. No one is harassing you. You're a broke arse person who is probably going to scam people. You told me you are living off your last $25 yet you want to buy Instagram accounts and partner up with people.

2. I never said you scammed me, where are you getting this from?

3. What blackhat stuff? Are you mad?

And he just posted your conversation. So here is another -5 for you.

Mycroft Holmes - December 28, 2019, 10:25 pm

Updated the above post with the full conversation. I helped you out and you try going around doing stupid things and involving people into potential scamming.

If you have a sales thread and he is trashing it you're more than welcome reporting him within the sales thread.

There is absolutely no need to be a little baby.

I'll stop. Either way, he doesn't have any sales thread. It'll be a pity if somebody gets scammed though.

Anyhow, I believe this thread-issue is resolved.

Yet you're the one who posted the thread in the official section, who's really overreacting?

You have to upgrade to give popularity.

A little advice for your HF career down the line; don't post threads like these, they typically will not result in anything positive, especially a thread like this here in the RANF section that's dedicated to important site information.

If we all posted a thread to "clear our name" from a conversation gone wrong, HF would be filled to the brim with disagreement threads.

Your best bet is to just keep it in Convo's and if it goes too far, just add that member to your Ignore List.

I'd like to know what the staff consider to be Harassment on this site. I guess its up to their individual discretion.

Prince™ - December 29, 2019, 4:34 am

Op, you better read those HF Rules. You seem new here and unknown about the ways here.

Omniscient - December 29, 2019, 10:19 am

OP's problem is now solved.
