so you put lets say $100, do some work which requires 20min and get about $20 profits?
is there any risk?

Damn I regret vouching for this guy now, however the RDP he gave me did work, but I guess he was someone returning to make some sort of sales.

Vouching for a money method released by a new member who charges $500 while all he did for you was delivering a working rdp...

Thats fine by me, as I said on my original post on this thread it looked promising cause he let me see hit but then again I don't do methods and all that stuff so I didn't really understand it. And I vouched for his rdp more than this.

Not sure if you saw my first post on this thread but i deleted for this exact reason, didn't know who this is
