Thread: android rat and controll from other phone

Have a cheap phone i want to put a rat in and then i gonna put it outside somewhere and see who takes it.

Since i have full acess to the phone i guess its easier to find a good rat.

Requirements is:

- Need to be able to see both front and back camera, video, pics and with audio so i can record it all.
- Gps so i can see where the phone is.
- Hidden start up so when they turn on the phone again i will be able to see camera and gps, and they dont notice the rat is on.

Also would be very good if i could use my other phone to record and not on my pc.

Thats. About what i need.

Last time i did this i use trackview, it worked pretty good but problem is when the phone got out of power, trackview has to be startet manually on the phone. And it also has icon showing it is on.

Any sugestion of what to use?

Any suggestion of what to use?

Or they find phone, turn it off, then factory reset. You wanna hope I don't find the phone m8. :)

Your plan has a lot of flaws.

Instead of just throwing your phone, perhaps try poisoning people on the internet :p You will get more success and learn better :)
