Thread: [What's your profile statistics? \[Profile Analytics \]](#)

Cooligan - January 11, 2020, 11:08 am

As most of you are probably aware by now, we have a Profile Analytics option on our profiles to track our progress and/or statistics over the last 28 day period. Personally I use this feature quite often just to keep track of how things are going, how things might have changed, etc.. It's a really neat feature.

For those of you that don't know about it, you can find the button, here:

What does yours look like HF?

Grey - January 11, 2020, 11:16 am

I have only just started being active again over the course of the last month, so that's why the percentages compared to the month previous are so high:

If only the crypto prices have the same graphs as yours...

Lavish Living - January 11, 2020, 11:21 am i need to write 5 blogs so i get that award zzzz it's on my to do list so i finish my gold row

Anima - January 11, 2020, 11:22 am

Actually never knew this was a feature, it's pretty cool actually.

Heres mine:

I've got the same problem. Only started coming back here like a month ago. Been posting a lot more than I thought though, lol.

Crypt - January 11, 2020, 12:46 pm

I'm so popular that I don't want to post the stats and make anyone jealous.

I'm on mobile right now, but I'll post them when I get home

AYMG - January 23, 2020, 12:21 pm

I guess I'll have to improve activity a bit.

Since when "Reported Posts" is added? I haven't seen it until now.
