Hey does anyone know how to make some great gravy to go with mashed potatoes

dave soiutig - January 15, 2020, 9:11 am

Ahhhh, Bisto. Bones of your choice, red wine, stock, onions , assorted veg, boil it or oven it, strain it, reduce it. Happy days.

My dude I have never liked mashed potatoes for some damn reason so I wouldn't be able to help here.

NO GRAVY PLS ?

Just get instant mashed potatoes. It's much easier and tastes basically the same if you don't compare them directly lol

I don't agree with this. I think it tastes better when you mash real potatoes with milk and such instead of buying a pre-made pack haha I never ate it with gravy though.

Make your own stock from your preferred meat, that's how I do it. Or if I'm feeling like a lazy piece of shit I'll get the gravy granules and cubes and just pour some hot water over it and add a shit-ton of salt.

Honestly do, get the $1 packs of gravy that you just add water too lol

Mashed taters and gravy is god's work. Just buy the powder gravy and mix with hot water, tastes fine.

Love me some mash and gravy. Too good.

@ hayesh I never made gravy from scratch. I usually buy it pre-made in the jars from the store!

Good luck finding a recipe, though.

I don't even need gravy, just extra butter
