Thread: Auto selecting checkboxes on third party website

HotTunaCanSandiwch - January 17, 2020, 12:10 pm

Hello all,

I have a big favour to ask this community, as it will save me countless hours every week at work.

We have a database in a website called tableau and every day I have to pull the stats of my team(Which consist of 20 agents) and to pull these stats i have to manually search and select each agent from a checkbox list (As shown in the picture below).

This whole process is soo repetitive and tedious and takes a lot of my time every day.

Is there any way to write a script so that I can just paste so that it can auto-select all my agents from the list?

Please tell me you can help me, as I believe that there must be a way to do that.
