Thread: looking for a hour booster for games on steam

Velociraptor29 - January 19, 2020, 5:49 am

Hello,

I am looking for a bot or somethink like that to get more hours fast on steam games like cs:go or somethink like that for an example.

I am from Germany so sorry for my bad english :D.

Hopefully someone can help me just dm me or post here :)

Thank you best regrads :) Victoire

This is outdated

I use ArchiSteamFarm, because it focuses on getting you trading cards but you can make it idle on any game(s) you want when it is done with that. I, for example, have it set on idling CS:GO once it is done getting me trading cards. It also gets updates so it's really good, and you can set it up on a vps and open it from your web browser with its beautiful UI.

Outdated in what sense? I have used in the past and it works just fine.

In the sense that the algorithms are outdated and the way it works isn't efficient.
