Thread: Make Thousands Options Trading

TraderJoe - January 21, 2020, 2:09 pm

I'm offering access to a private options trading group.

You will be given calls daily to follow, this is great for any trader, no matter the experience.

You will need an account with a trading company such as Robinhood.

Price: $75 a month

I'll be giving one vouch copy to someone that replies to the thread, don't ask for a vouch copy, you won't get it.

The thread is bare right now but I will start to fill it up with success as the weeks go on, me and my friends have been consistently making money all of 2019 and this will continue into 2020.

very interested, did a little of this last year and would like to continue in 2020

PetWussy - January 21, 2020, 2:37 pm

Results? Previous trades? Proof ?

I could show hundreds of screenshots of me and my friends making money but it doesn't really prove anything, could easily be faked.

Much better to just get into the group and earn for yourself, like I said i'll give someone access for free for a few days

LeBron - January 21, 2020, 2:55 pm

Very interested in this, looking forward to working with you.

Sorry,

as the thread said I won't be giving a vouch copy to anyone that asks for one.

I would love to see your group along with calls and accuracy. Also curious to know which broker you use. I've been in forex for 7 years and options trading for about a year. Good money to be made with proper discipline and money management.

TraderJoe - January 22, 2020, 9:38 am

Was extremely busy today so only got time to play one call, but up 17% on Amex today

Robinhood is the most used, you can also use interactive brokers, thinkorswim, tastyworks there a lot of different brokers.

That's not what he asked. He asked which broker do you use? Also, I don't think Robinhood would be best especially for options trading, considering there's no indicators, so it's evident you don't have a clue on what you're talking about. Now, if you use Robinhood to trade, and a different broker to analyze charts than that's different, however you didn't mention any of that.

Sounds very similar to the teenager who was on the "Chatting with" interview series on YouTube about a week ago.

"Chatting with a 19-year-old Day Trading Millionaire Cult Leader" by LAHWF

I've seen screenshots that apparently show him copying trades/posts from private groups headed by much older and more experienced traders and pasting them into his own private discord trading group. You can do your own research. Definitely seems likely.

Just saw a video by Stock Hunter Trading exposing NourTrades for copying all of his notes/charts. Wouldn't be surprised if TraderJoe got the same idea. Peculiar timing and a 2 day old account

So let me get this straight, your reasoning behind me not knowing how to trade is because I use Robinhood?

You make no sense, I didn't think I had to clarify small details about me using another platform to chart, when even you said, robinhood doesn't have an advanced charting tool.

I'm not even sure what to say to your post, it's so moronic.

I've been sharing my trades for around 8 months now but yes, I saw a random YouTube video with 90k views and decided to start scamming. Keep watching your small niche, trading drama YouTube channels and posting your conspiracy theories I'm sure that's a great use of your time.

I have never traded options. Are the calls straightforward that even someone new like me can follow? Anyway possible to offer a 3 day trial or something among those lines to see how things work in your group?

Yes, I lay them out incredibly easy for you to follow and will normally post my exits too, although as as you are new, it's important you learn how to properly manage your bankroll etc

Markets are closed right now but I think giving a completely new trader access would be a good way of showing the benefits of the group. Please DM me your discord as I need to make sure you have a few things to be eligible for the group.

Didn't ask for one, just put out the consideration

Anyways glws

I trade futures & options for a living and only know a handful of traders that has actually walk the walk.

Today was one of those days that make trading worth it :) Hoping we get this kind of action next week too

I'll be adding you now!

Sadly MoneyMo23 isn't able to take the trial period. I'll be looking for another user.

If you are open to trading with my calls, I'd be happy to give you a trial period.
