Thread: Are there any free rat I can use to mess with a couple friends?

Ajumma - January 21, 2020, 7:28 pm

I'm not sure why the change from a 1-time fee to a monthly fee now with all the rats, but I'm not looking to pay monthly to mess around a few times.

I'm looking for a free rat, doesn't matter if its detected or not, to play some pranks on a friend.

I'm going to give away some of my old prebuilt computers to some friends that are very gullible. I'm going to tell them I'm giving it away for free because it's haunted, and then start messing with them while we're gaming or just chatting on Discord ?

I haven't done this RAT stuff since like 6-7 years ago, so I'm a but out of touch hehe

Np man and also to make it undetectable you need to purchase a paid crypter

I don't think I'd need one but the prank might work better if I do have one. I'm guessing just check out the market section?

I want to have the RAT already installed on machine I give away, but some of them are going to reset it so I'm gonna need another way to get it on there

Yeah but I feel like they'll install some Anti-virus or something and your plan would be destroyed

Yeah you're right.

Dang, looks like I'll have to shell out SOME money just for a prank. Let's hope at least 1 of them won't be running an AV then. It'll be funny but I don't think I want to pay $35 for some laughs xD

Sure there are free RAT's on the market, but you would need to worry about your crypter since it likely will be detected.

What a shitty friend you are. You might be messing with them, but you are also invading their privacy. You can't filter out what you see.

Hope you end up seeing them sexting with your mom.

Dude you need to chill out man. These are good friends of mine, otherwise, I wouldn't be handing over a gaming PC. It's not like I'm going to sit there and look at their desktop and browse through their files 24/7 like some kind of creep.

I want to do the prank, have a good laugh about it, then come clean and they can reinstall Windows or just have me remove the rat.

basically, things like, randomly closing out their game while we're gaming. Sending messageboxes to show that the game is mad at them for losing.

Of course I can filter out what I see. Just don't look at their damn desktop or webcam. Closing out a process and sending a messagebox in my mind is not all that evil...

Oh also,

You don't know what types of friends I have, how they're like etc. Keep those comments to yourself. Yes, it is a breach of privacy, but look at the section you're in and maybe you can reply to every single thread here about a RAT as well about privacy.

The other threads just don't admit to what they're doing.
