Thread: my 2020 graphics service thread design

Astrogen - January 26, 2020, 3:56 am

It's already 2020, time to update my graphics service thread design.

Code it's evening and raining
the aura is dark listening to the music to chill
i love the darkness outside that ^ was my inspiration when I made this update. just letting my feelings on that moment decide the design

Spoiler (Click to View)

let me know what you think, thanks!

Sweet, minimal, and clean design, I like it. I wish you the best of luck with your graphics service!

Hello,

A little bit to dark for me, especially for the pictures. Besides texts and shapes are not really smooth, or maybe it's my display ^^

Otherwise cool :)

thanks! I also have 2 devices, a pc and a macbook. When I'm on my pc, it's also dark, but on my macbook, it looks fine. I don't know which one to base on but I've chosen to base it off my macbook.

Love the clean look! Especially since black is my favorite color.

I really liked the neat design.

Although if I were you, I'd make the order now button's edge a bit curved and rather than listing prices of specific things in a single column, I'd make it go to two columns and rows accordingly. Everything else looks dope for me.

I really like the order step process

here is some feedback:

brighten up the monitor so it doesn't blend in too much with the bg decrease/remove drop shadow on the hand

Nearly impossible to see anything on mobile.
