Like the subject says, any good and safe paid ddns service for ratting.
i've searched around HF but there are only very very few and old threads about this.

Here you go, the best solution which I found is <https://nvpn.net>

This is safe 100 % using it from 2016

Dyndns is also good, if u use that with whonix as a backend using a vpn as a NAT and make a new vm of and crypt it with veracrypt this can provide u a good anonimity, btw im not sure that dundns used to take logs or not. But if it used to take logs then they will be recieveing logs in a encrypted form which is like garbage to them.

okay, i tried to look for dundns but couldn't find it here so there's no way to hear other people idea about them. After Armada, why is it so hard to find on this forum.
