Thread: Smilies Converted to Emojis

Omniscient - January 30, 2020, 6:32 pm

I am considering changing the Smilies box to Emojis. So that when you select a smilie it just inserts an Emoji instead. What do you guys think about that?

Support the idea or what?

I may even go through the entire database and convert existing smilie code into an emoji instead.

Charger - January 30, 2020, 6:33 pm

Smilies are ugly as fuck. Please do this.

Nas - January 30, 2020, 6:34 pm

I think it's a good idea, emoji's look better and are easier to use when on mobile.
Would make posts look cleaner when there's only one type.

Bluffer - January 30, 2020, 8:10 pm

I think it'd be cool to keep both smilies and emojis honestly. Wouldn't feel like hf without ? and ? anymore.

Mr Kewl - January 30, 2020, 8:26 pm

Don't do it.
Don't do it.
Don't do it.
Don't do it.

Smilies have been part of HF and they sweet.

Are there any major advantages for converting smilies to emojis for the server? If yes, then surely do it over nostalgia because I've not seen a lot of people use them nowadays.

oRequiem - January 30, 2020, 10:09 pm

I support this idea, gonna miss ? if you do.

eXceptional - January 30, 2020, 11:13 pm

I agree. Would be much easier to insert smileys from any platform by just using the codes. Remembering the codes are not much difficult.

Edit: How about keeping both? A few members don't want it to happen so maybe using another set of codes for the smileys would be great.

Agree with kewl i would be kinda sad to see them go away... ?

Dafuq - January 30, 2020, 11:53 pm

Why not have both, unless it is impossible for Smileys and Emojis to co-exist. Let us preach coexistence ? ? ? ?

Pyro - January 30, 2020, 11:58 pm

Omniscient - January 31, 2020, 12:04 am

Smilies are a less efficient system. I prefer not to keep them both.

?BADMAN? - January 31, 2020, 12:10 am

I would say yes to some update of smileys but i don't like the idea of the replacement by emojis.

Grim - January 31, 2020, 12:16 am

Emojis would be cool. Would be a nice feature for mobile as well as long as its not to hard to convert them all

Eagle 95 - January 31, 2020, 12:24 am

This looks ugly to me. Original smileys render properly without any additions to the system/browser/whatever.

Edit: I don't know if that's how they are supposed to look like or it's just me. Either way, it's ugh.

I'm used to smilies but I believe HF would take a gain from emojis, mainly because people are used see them all around.

Just make sure to find a good replacement for my favorite ones: ? and ?

I love them and are the ones I use the most duplex - January 31, 2020, 5:30 am

Use emojis, go with the times I think, the younger generation below us are addicted to them.

Yin Yang - January 31, 2020, 5:31 am

Yes! It's about time that they get updated.

Evil - January 31, 2020, 5:33 am

On one hand, it's a classic part of HF that is very distinctive because it's been around so long. On the other hand it's outdated as hell. I couldn't even decide which I'd prefer because of both those reasons.

SIM-4086413 - January 31, 2020, 6:54 am

Omniscient - January 31, 2020, 8:47 am

Quote:This looks ugly to me. Original smilies render properly without any additions to the system/browser/whatever.

Are you on an older OS like Windows 7? You have to upgrade to a modern OS for Emoji's to work 100%. Otherwise they look as they do in your screenshot.

Eventually everyone should be running an OS that's compatible. It's simply a matter of your charset.

Quote:Emojis do give us 100's of options to express ourselves

You can use them now in posts.

btw, one good reason to do this is SEO. Currently a smilie is an individual image. It's not even a css sprite. So if a thread has 5 smilies loading on the page that's an extra 8-15k and 5 more GET calls to the server. Sure, cache is common for most of these but it's still way more efficient to use emojis.

Members have asked me for years to add or change the smilies. I took HF offline for 8 hours to make that possible.

Quote:Use emojis, go with the times I think, the younger generation below us are addicted to them.

More or less what Xerotic tells me all the time. I rarely use smilies or emojis but I am trying to do so for familiarity and to understand the next generation a bit.

I have added this to our projects list. You can expect it to happen. Maybe next week or the week after.

Thanks for the feedback.

? Desktop users can too. Using a simple command you can bring up the emoji selection box.

Windows: (Windows Key + Period)

Mac: (Command + Control + Spacebar)

Plus you have so many options. ???

Update - Smilies are currently being converted in the database to an emoji equivalent. This will take a few hours to process and it is starting with the oldest posts and moving towards the present.

Omniscient - January 31, 2020, 3:40 pm

Estimate to be done in 5 hours. All the previous smilies are currently deleted. New system should be in place shortly.

? Soufian ? - January 31, 2020, 3:40 pm

Please do so. Current smilies are way too old and hard to use in certain context.

Hex - January 31, 2020, 3:49 pm

I'm not gonna lie, I used Smilies quite literally every single day. I used ? / ? / ? / ? / and ? all the time, ? was used in almost every other post lol, it's just such a good emphasis emoji.

Anyway, I do love the new Emoji's, however we can use those just by right clicking the mouse and clicking Emoji's at the top, or you guys could just add the option back to the post box (I believe it was right next to "Insert a link" if I'm not mistaken)

I would love to see the Smilies come back and stay in the Smilies box on the left, and have a drop down menu in our post creation box to choose an Emoji like what we had before. That's my vote ?

I'm okay with them. Over the years members wanted new smilies but with how MyBB worked there wasn't really a great way to make it happen.

Now we can add or remove emojis in the quick box with ease and no effect to existing posts. No more similie image loading either so that saves some resources with HF.

What OS do you use?

luv. - February 3, 2020, 2:49 pm

Thank god. The only smiley that will be missed is blackhat

Goku - February 3, 2020, 2:55 pm

Nah those smilies are OG

You can add emojis anyways with right click (on chrome and brave, win+period shortcut) ??

I'm gonna miss :blackhat: :c

(Feb 3, 2020 10:30 AM)Lowkey Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I would at least keep the :blackhat: emote that's a symbolic HF classic. I like the update, makes me feel like I'm on twitter lol
Yes that would be amazing ?

If you're on a Linux OS you might be seeing that as Emoji's. You may need to figure out how to add the character maps on your own. Only about 3% of members use Linux.

OS Breakdown of top 5:

44% Windows
25% Android
21% iOS
7% Mac
3% Linux

Love the edition, makes it more modern and young generation friendly.

i fixed the problem by adding Chromoji extension to chrome, i wish you kept :blackhat: though i already miss him

edit: seems the chromoji only fixed some, still got some blank boxes, will update if i find a fix

Probably won't last long. I might delete the folder from server. Not a reliable method.

Swip3r - February 6, 2020, 12:33 pm

Would be cool if you could import the dead skull emoji

Thought about this idea a lot, but I came to the conclusion that it would be aids with all the marketplace spam that gonna happen.

??????? - February 11, 2020, 2:09 pm

Windows 10

I made thread titles strict characters a long time ago because of that.

Vyrkfrir - February 11, 2020, 7:37 pm

Straight up yes. :hehe: for a generic laugh is a price to type everytime. Emojis just easier, even if they are tacky now.

JammyJ - February 23, 2020, 10:17 am

Standardisation is always good.

Spotted a duplicate emoji. May I kindly suggest we add "?" in its place as we're missing a nervous laugh & it happens to be my favourite. Regards ?

There's also 1 more duplicate emoji. I messaged Xer about this but got no reply, he's probably busy with something.

JammyJ - February 23, 2020, 10:26 am

I didn't spot any other duplicates, only ones that looked similar but were still unique.
