Thread: Web Design \(HTML/CSS\) from a beginner

I'm going to keep this short and concise.

I finally got myself into coding which I am pretty proud of however I have only finished learning CSS and HTML so far. Javascript is next on the list just so I can get web development down.

I will be creating a couple basic websites for people. They probably won't be the most useable as again I am still newer to it and they will be more basic however if you would like to help me out with my skills and see what I can do so far incase you would like to use my services in the future then start a conversation on here with me and let me know what you would like!

I will pick a couple at least from upgraded members to get to work on :) Keep in mind again I am newer to this so it may take a little longer to create the sites.

Hey! I'd love to try and give you some experience with this, and it really wouldn't hurt me to have a centralized space like a website to kind of serve as a hub for my beats and just everything I do production wise. If you're up for it just shoot me a DM

Hey man! Would love to try making something like that!

Again I have no javascript experience yet so I cant have any applications or background stuff going really but if youd like something more basic that could be a nice looking place that could link you to whatever sick beat you want I can definitely do that!

If you have a specific way you want it let me know otherwise just give me a basic description of what you are looking for and your favorite colors and I can whip something up for ya

I guess you should go for the " Website Design [HTML / CSS]" from a beginner.

Everyone might think you are able to code the back end with that title of yours lol.
