

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: [\[BREAKING NEWS\] Terrorist attack in London \(02/02/2020\)](#)

Minisaints - February 2, 2020, 11:01 am

Here we go again!

[Video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=2fTB6rkKgTw>]

<https://news.sky.com/story/streatham-terror-attack-two-stabbed-and-man-shot-dead-in-london-11924768>

Geralt - February 2, 2020, 12:14 pm

2020 just keeps on giving huh

EssayEraser - February 2, 2020, 12:49 pm

Perhaps trying to exploit a lack of government focus due to economic changes. Who knows

Bob White - February 2, 2020, 1:07 pm

But of course let's let more Islamic radicals move into the country and change the entire way the country does things to make them feel more comfortable, because that's going to surely decrease their wild ass actions and nonsensical terrorist happenings.

So glad we fight against this in America, literally the only thing I like about our president, our strict laws (and even more coming) on immigration and Islamic nonsense.

dave soiutig - February 2, 2020, 2:00 pm

Are terrorist attacks not supposed to terrify people? They should rename it to normal attacks.

Riggs - February 2, 2020, 2:02 pm

I was on Streatham high street as this happened.

Pawnhub - February 2, 2020, 9:54 pm

I read this and I feel bad for the UK citizens.

https://twitter.com/BasedPoland/status/1224005092237565952?ref_src=twsrc%5Etfw%7Ctwcamp%5Etweetembed%7Ctwterm%5E1224005092237565952&ref_url=https%3A%2F%2Fen.news-front.info%2F2020%2F02%2F02%2Fterrorist-attack-in-london%2F

ContestOver - February 2, 2020, 9:57 pm

all i got to say is fake news

Polymath - February 3, 2020, 6:00 am

(Feb 2, 2020 02:07 PM)GenericPlayer17 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) But of course let's let more Islamic radicals move into the country and change the entire way the country does things to make them feel more comfortable, because that's going to surely decrease their wild ass actions and nonsensical terrorist happenings.

So glad we fight against this in America, literally the only thing I like about our president, our strict laws (and even more coming) on immigration and Islamic nonsense. Britain is too soft, I mean they have been housing and protecting the terrorist 'Anjem Choudry', this is the same cuntt who was responsible for brainwashing and recruiting young brits for ISIS. Terrorists should either be interrogated and deported or shot dead. I think the big problem is that brits who get radicalised in prisons or from terrorist websites are born and raised in the UK, so its nothing to do with moving to the country if they are born here. Fighting terrorism isn't that simple, it is hidden beneath society. No one expected the new zealand shooter to gun all those Muslims down in the mosque. Though there aren't many terror related incidents happened over in America recently, there is still problems going on with mass shootings. If you look at the death toll from mass shootings it is much greater over in America than compared to terror related incidents in the UK.

As for this attack, we are not 100% sure if this was terror related. Another example of media outlets trying to get views as nothing gets more views than Islamic terrorism.

(Feb 2, 2020 03:02 PM)Riggs Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I was on Streatham high street as this happened. Did you witness the incident?

PICwarrior381 - February 3, 2020, 11:30 am

Oh man, I don't know what happens in their heads to go out there and stabbing INNOCENT people

The world we living today has no rules man, people can take your life just because they are in a bad mood

Charlemagne - February 3, 2020, 12:01 pm

(Feb 3, 2020 12:30 PM)mrpker9 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Oh man, I don't know what happens in their heads to go out there and stabbing INNOCENT people

The world we living today has no rules man, people can take your life just because they are in a bad mood

Has nothing to do with today's "world," this has always been the case. In the past it was even easier, a duel was extremely common way of settling scores, but nowadays we don't have any way of calming our blood lusts

BreadMaker - February 3, 2020, 12:25 pm

Thought ye might like to give This a read.

Sudesh Amman, the 20-year-old responsible for the attack in Streatham, south London, on Sunday, pleaded guilty in November 2018 to six charges of possessing documents containing terrorist information and seven of disseminating terrorist publications.

He was automatically released from HMP Belmarsh on 23 January 2020 after serving half of his sentence in custody.

It is understood that he had since been living at a bail hostel in south London.

He was under a curfew and had to wear a GPS tag, coupled with exclusion zones such as ports and airports. He had to surrender his passport and had limited access to electronic devices and restrictions on his internet use

Source: BBC

DazedB - February 3, 2020, 4:17 pm

I always hated the map piccadilly

Alinoxa - February 3, 2020, 4:17 pm

2020 at it's finest man :)

Charger - February 3, 2020, 4:24 pm

BaN aSsAuLt KnIvEs tO pRevEnT maSs sTaBblnGs

