Thread: GEOLOCATION PHP SCRIPT | TRACK YOUR USER'S EVERYWHERE | 100% SAFE

SIM-4574945 - February 8, 2020, 4:04 am

I've a PHP script which uses browser's location in order to find user's position. This kind of script helps you in getting the user's position by using HTML5 Geolocation.

HOW DOES IT WORK

You send a link to the user and makes him accept it. User gets a prompt saying "This website wants to know your location". If he presses yes, he'll be redirected to another page you wish. I've added a javascript code on the script which shows another prompt saying "In order to see the content of the page, allows the website to access your position". This social engineering trick might help you to get it really effective.

WHAT DO YOU NEED?

1. Domain
2. SSL certificate (recommended if your target uses Chrome, Firefox, Opera). If he uses browser such as Edge or another outdated browser, you do not need it.
3. PHP Hosting

DOES IT WORK ON MULTIOS?

Yes it does. It also works on phones too as long as the GPS option is enabled.

VOUCH COPY

I can provide vouch copy to reputable and highly trusted member.

PAYMENT MODE

Bitcoin
Ethereum

I decided to sell it. My price is 25 EUR but feel free to make an offer and I will evaluate.

Hello I have reviewed this script as I have received a vouch copy. The script is very small and appears to be very adaptable. However, I think OP would be better off selling this a little cheaper, but overall it does work as described. You might want to look into a service to get more information from lon/lat cords. Tested in Microsoft Edge, it definitely appears to be suspect to the trained eye, but I'm sure if you know what you're doing you could hide this pretty easily. Once I get a SSL certificate I'll be able to fully test this on chrome.

Interesting script for sure.

I'm pretty sure you can pass latitude and longitude to the Google Maps Geocoding API and receive an address which would probably be more friendly.

According to an online lon/lat lookup website (<https://www.findlatitudeandlongitude.com/>) It was scary accurate.

Nifty service you're offering here, I like it.

Good luck with sales.

On a side note, I wonder if there's some way to get the location without getting the click? Example: on iOS it shows a preview on text messages and links with iMessage. That'd be epic.

What do you mean "those solutions won't work if you are looking to trace someone else".

Just add the single line of code to store the location into a txt or to show it on google maps. Is this what you are selling for 25 eur? To share the coordinates of the victim with the attacker? By just adding one line of code to the the script that can be found on the internet? You're ripping off people, honestly.

On Google there are some websites which show your location only and these don't allow to trace the coordinates of someone else; I'm selling a script which allows you trace someone by sending just a link and if victim presses yes, then, you'll be able to track him. However, every coder might create something similar and doesn't need to purchase my solution.

I'm so sorry if you think I'm ripping off people, this is not my goal. All users are free of buying it or not.

Well this looks cool and all but recreating it isn't hard. There is a lot of github scripts that do the exact same thing and logging in php is as easy as just making an sql table. Would be nice if it had a nice little viewer and a country map/list. I paid 80 for someone to make something like this, but he included a lot of stuff and it was from scratch. Personally I would just recreate this using github/php docs. OP you should probably focus on doing more complex tasks/scripts if you want to get sales.

I am interested but I want to know is it open source and can it be easily embedded in existing project? I am a new developer so just want to make sure it can be utilized in existing projects. Thanks

I have not published this project elsewhere. However, I believe so. In which projects would you like to integrate it?
