Sui Generis

You like to read? Want to start a book club?

We'll express your interest here and let's get it going in Sui Generis.

Can be anything from a place to discuss and review your favorite books, a place where we can all organise to read the same thing or discuss it as we go, or if you are looking for a recommendation it could be a good group of people to ask.

Also if you're interested in helping run it hit me up.

Members will of course be invited to Sui Generis.

I don't really care much for an application process. Just post to express interest.

As long as you're willing to participate I'm happy. Will likely add most people that want in.

Account Requirements:

None.

Current members expressing interest: Soulmate

Alright let's cut to the chase, how much is the buyin fee??

Charger - February 9, 2020, 3:07 pm

I read The Blacklist: Elizabeth Keen's Dossier to Nachfolger

Nachfolger - February 9, 2020, 3:08 pm

I read Diary of a Wimpy kid back in middle school. Great book, I'm not a fan of these fake tweets though.

Please invite me. Thank you.

How about I give you 50 bytes and you let me and Nachfolger in?

Soulmate~?? - February 10, 2020, 3:06 pm

Would be awesome to organize an actual book club and read at least one book together, maybe a couple chapters a week and discuss them after

That's what I was thinking

Doesn't look like many people are interested tho

Threat - February 10, 2020, 5:29 pm

My favorite book is called "Hawk", one of the first books I read that I actually enjoyed reading and touched on real life problems in parts of Canada (Aboriginal People & Reserves). It has a very interesting story line and is definitely worth a read.

if that isn't good enough I'll pay the $15 ;)

No one is gonna pay $15 I think I'm gonna let in most people that show interest. Ima wait until there's enough people to warrant it though

Yeah if there's enough interest to warrant me putting in my time.

We'll decide what to read once we got a few people interested

u cant read nach gobbildy goop

I'd love to get some serious members as apart of this initiative.

If you can't find time for reading in your life, somethings wrong.

I'm down to read some Murakami.

I was thinking of starting off with a few things that are like 200-300 pages to get in the swing of things.

Man's Search for Meaning is 200 pages, not sure if everyone would be down to read it though but I'd be down to read anything if it was 200-300 pages

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. This OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP (Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,

There's no set number we're just seeing how many people would be interested and if there's enough active members it will probably be a go. You can see in the main thread about 4 people said they would be so far

It never was.

I am addicted to reading the news. Hence why I was all over Brexit when it was happening as I had nothing else to read. I know its not books but I just don't really get time to read books as I read everything online.

G?df?t?? - February 16, 2020, 5:46 am

I actually love to read in my spare time and having a club for this would be right up my alley! I'm very interested in this and would love to help out.

Lozemlpsum - February 16, 2020, 6:05 am

I read a lot of marketing books, but I did read in my childhood a lot about rituals, magick, life-lessons, mentorships, motivational books, money books and horror books. I stopped reading when I lost time for that, but I find myself being able to relax with a good book.

If I am accepted to your Book club, I would love to be recommended a good read. If I'm not accepted, I understand too.

Thank you for this opportunity my man.

Honestly, I'm surprised as well.

This is exactly what we needed in a group: a group of intellectuals who can discuss interesting reads.

I'm pumped for this ?

scam. - February 16, 2020, 11:10 am

When I got the time I'll go through the list of people interested and come up w a game plan.

Maybe tonight depends if my girls gonna be home or workin late

Boomer - February 16, 2020, 11:21 am

Id be interested if everyone gets to submit their idea for the next book and everyone votes. Right now I'm reading an aviation biography from the 60s called Fate Is The Hunter. But I read lots of different stuff.

Yeah I think it would be vote/suggestion based but probably nothing too niche

I'm thinking let everyone submit a few things and do a poll

That's why I'm thinking keeping it a little smaller rather than large. Harder to get everyone to agree on something if there's too many people.

Will probably have the poll open until everyone's voted and then give a week or so for everyone to find a copy

I have added users and made an information thread in the Sub Forum.

Anyone else that's interested let me know.

So I just searched for "book club" to make sure I wasn't going to be posting a redundant thread in the lounge and I found this. Is this still going on? I would like to join if it is. I listen to audiobooks all day at work but have no one in real life to talk to about them.
