With the society we live in today there has been a lot of talk about people cheating on each other and how to catch someone cheating if you think you are being cheated on. There are many ways to go about catching a cheater and some have tried to use private detectives or other ways to catch the cheaters. You can use a reverse look up for cell phone number listings to help you and here is how you can do this. There are two ways to can find out what the suspicious numbers are and who they belong to. The first way that you can get a hold of these numbers is to get the phone that your mate is using and find out who they have been texting and calling. This is the easiest way to get the suspicious numbers that your mate has been calling or texting as long as you can get the phone without being caught. The second way is to get a hold of their bill and figure out what numbers are not from people you know already.

There are many sites that offer reverse look ups, but only a few of them do so for cell numbers. This is important to know because getting a reverse cell number is not going to be free, but it is also not going to be that expensive and there is an option for unlimited searches for just one fee at most site that do cell phone number listings. This #PhoneNumberList is good to know and all you have to do is find the site that you like the best.

So once you have decided to look up these what should you do with what you find? Well, you will have a few options at this point. If you find that a number leads you to someone that you know your mate is not cheating with, then you can cross that number off the list. However, if there is suspicion, then you can confront your mate and find out the truth. Another option is to confront the person you think they are cheating with and remember that this person might not even know that you exist in your mates life.

are you asking for a P.I. or what the best thing to to do is be calm, confident and keep your cool but ask without getting mad with your partner (it's best to do when your not married don't have or expect children, and are not engaged especially close to the ceremony unless they you are and secretly under the the guise of being happy wait last minute during your vows (works better if your in a suit or have you or your maid of honor has big boobs) pull out a list of his/her texts or other evidence and read it) but that's off topic do your research first (keyloggers, And RATs work great (most androids can accept them IOS usually needs to be jail broken) if you can't just ask if you say no I'm not to the thing i listed or i don't have children, I'm not late engagement take some time away especially if your under 35 let them be free eventually (they may or may not come back to you if your doubt it frame his/her. take note find his or her car (works best if your a man trust me go to the store and by a skimpy thong (trust me) or better yet find a good looking friend that's a female that's been there for awhile and cares about you and simply say "hey I don't like to do this but i need a favor don't worry i do whatever it takes to pay you back I'll buy more if you want (Pay her back or she'll rat) but could you wear a thong for a few days i need to frame my girls Boy trust me" if she does then you and her go find his car and put them in the car preferably under the back seat and have her call and ask real shy (make sure you have her number and ask if so and so is home say that a few days ago she was with him and got drunk and fugged him (use real words) and left her thong in the car (and use spoof tel .com) trust me it works Technically you did nothing illegal (unless you broke his car window better if its open)
