Pyro - February 11, 2020, 5:57 pm

Ok, so if i understood correctly, your post qualify if u have 100+ characters, so that's why now I'm making this post longer than my usual ones, hoping I will get it, but it won't actually happen. I hope I used 100+ characters now

Yeah stanley sent me a message saying that I got a hackuman award. I go to the incubator though and nothing happens so must not be fully available.

Graybyte - February 11, 2020, 6:09 pm

This seems super cool. I hope to get one soon so I can be apart of the hype. Something about 100 characters?

oRequiem - February 11, 2020, 6:11 pm

I'm assuming it's like the Clover Award where you need a certain amount of words/letters in a post?

Is it characters or words do you know?

Charger - February 11, 2020, 6:38 pm

Seems like the gift award...

Loukas - February 11, 2020, 6:44 pm

Honestly thought it was hack human as well.. lol. I wonder what the rate is to get one? Hopefully they made it so it's at least semi rare.

Geralt - February 11, 2020, 6:45 pm

So we just need a certain number of letters in our post? Or maybe a certain word triggers it? I've been randomly looking from the top to the bottom of most pages and couldn't find anything

Maxorg - February 11, 2020, 7:12 pm

Oh, I thought I was special for a minute there. I just got the egg ?

Zeus - February 11, 2020, 7:29 pm

Awh pokemon hackmon haha dope game cant wait!

Nas - February 11, 2020, 7:38 pm

Unlike the gift award, I'm assuming the more you post the higher of a chance you have to get one.

anyone know the chances/odds?

I think it's all random just have to have 100 characters in your post and I think the eggs will unlock other symbols but I'm not sure.

de_g3ntl3m4n - February 11, 2020, 8:22 pm

Stork hmmm, interesting, symbols such as like the little emojis? or symbols as in the little awards you can put under your name?

This will probably take me a long time to get an egg seeing that my luck is pretty damn crap.

It took me ages to get the green clover award from a post and I was posting really damn regularly when they first game out. Like 100 posts a day in the discussion threads related to the award or mass general discussion threads full of people trying to get them.. Also these threads reached max replies within like 3 days and there was about 30 of them.

So I dunno I am hoping the odds are in my favor.

The clover grind back then was unreal. Maybe this will come close to it, but I've seen way more people with the egg than with the clovers in the first few days of it's release, so it's probably something that everyone has a chance of getting.

Yeah, the clover was the first award to be granted on random posts, that's why everyone wanted it when it released.

It seems like the gift boxes were discontinued last year in may. At leasts that's when the last ones were given out.

I assume you will eventually be able to get multiple of a different variety. But judging by the rate at which this one is given out, I can almost confidently exclaim that you cannot get 2 of the same. The question is, if I place the award in the incubator; can I get another of the same kind?

It took me ages to get the green clover award from a post and I was posting really damn regularly when they first game out. Like 100 posts a day in the discussion threads related to the award or mass general discussion threads full of people trying to get them.. Also these threads reached max replies within like 3 days and there was about 30 of them.

So I dunno I am hoping the odds are in my favor.

I would try diversifying the threads that you post in. Who knows how relevant it is but just a suggestion

In my honest opinion, it's better than the gift award since you actually can do something with random pixels.

Also, I would like to mention that Hackforums has a character counter tool

Pretty handy, they actually should add this under the reply box

I am sure it's not yet possible. I saw somewhere that you may need to stack 3 green eggs and transform them into a blue one. 3 blue eggs for one superior gold egg. After that you can create your very own nest.

I've always found the best awards to receive are from Omni Himself. For doing something noteworthy and notable.

However these posting types of awards are great for the community to be active.
I still feel when the man "Omni" takes notice and awards you.

Of all my time here on HF I have only received one award from Omni himself.

Yeah that's fine .. Just go into the battle page and attack some low level Hackumans .. Your stats will drop with attacking but the stats will start to climb back up in time

Maybe look for Hackumans that have some damage and attack those .. It's easy mate ?

If you can survive long enough and get your stats up you just get stronger and stronger that's it really . You only get more eggs by posting mate . You can have 4 Hackumans incubated and still win more eggs but those eggs will turn black and just vanish from your profile in around 7 days ?

You can also earn some bytes on the battle tab wherein you have to do is eliminate any hackuman you wanted to kill but you have to be very cautious because some other players are also looking for a target, just hope your hackuman will not be targeted.

You have to build some strategy on every moves you will be making.

Enjoy the game and looking to see your hackuman on the battle :)

I already make a family of four...Daddy Hacku, Mommy Hacku, Brother Hacku and Sister Hacku but sad to say the parents and the brother are now gone...they were treated very badly :(

I only got the sister left over that lay 2 eggs in the incubator...I am thinking if I should let them hatched.

Tougher ones are heartless hackumans...Anyways it was only a game so I might raise the 2 eggs in a couple of days and have them in the battle as well.

Good luck everyone and enjoy the game :)

Yeah but bare in mind there getting old and rotten .. But imagine if that feature came out and members could sell there eggs for bytes i think it would be great as there's a lot of members not interested in incubating there eggs or they don't have the bytes to do it .. So it's a win win for everyone mate ?

Step 1: You don't

Step 2: Delete your Hackuman

Step 3: Enjoy life

Game is broken AF it's not even worth trying and wasiting your bytes trust me.

That is pretty true to be honest. I've gone through roughly around 12 eggs (all green) and they're all killed in the matter of an hour after receiving them. Kind of no point since we have level 50's and such who go around hunting level 1's. Kinda stupid tbh.

I'm pretty sure a level 50 can't attack a level 1 but yeah all the Green eggs get shit on by the Blue ones.

Its quite annoying at the fact that every egg I seem to receive is green while a lot of people are getting blues and shitting on me and everyone else. Theres literally no point in playing with a green egg. Might just start letting them die tbh

They need to make a way to disable getting eggs, this $hit is ugly and makes me not want to post. I will never have an interest in participating in this game that was forced on everyone.

Just consider it as a 5 byte fee to incubate it and get rid of it. Afterall, the award disappears when you incubate it and you don't get them that often.

I want nothing to do with this panzi scheme.

EDIT:

Done. It's 10 bytes

LMAO why not post when you can just instantly incubate it when you get it?

The purpose of these eggs is to stimulate posts because Omni is banking on the majority of these users to play along and feed the egg; to feed an egg you need bytes, to obtain bytes you need to post. By also forcing you to pay to hatch it (or get rid of it) he's incentivising you even more.

idk about the community but I lost my faith after the RF

I am not disagreeing with you at all, but 5 bytes to hatch an egg every 100 posts shouldn't really be a concern to you.

Hey if anybody has some tips and tricks I'm trying to be the ultimate trainer, I really want to catch them all but I'm not sure my typing skills are the most elite. Hopefully this post will earn me a lucky egg! If not I'll go hunting somewhere else.

Ya all are just figuring this out.

It's all about the green worthless eggs.

As for the blue eggs, yeah good luck with that.

Last blue egg I received was when I bought the Covid 19 award.

There's nothing to figure out I kill every egg I get because I don't want to participate. I still think there should be a way to hide these eggs since they disappear off of your award bar anyway.

You're basically forcing me to waste 50+ bytes a day for trying to just post.

Pretty soon I'm going to start farming and charging people to kill my hatched eggs so I can turn a profit.

don't tempt me, I'll ruin this whole experience for everyone ???
