Thread: If you only had hours left..

Loukas - February 12, 2020, 9:06 am

If you only had two hours remaining hours left on earth, from right this second, what would you do with your time? (Your heart stops in two hours)

I would spend it with my dad and my sister, laughing about the good times we've enjoyed together. It really seems odd to think that you never know your expiration date.

So, how would you spend your final hours?

Try to be realistic :D

.eXe - February 12, 2020, 9:08 am

Probably the same thing I always do. Sit on my ass and do absolutely fuck all.

Seriously though, just spend it with family, I guess.

Ha, I feel like that's how most people would spend it. I guess if I didn't have family, I would actually have to think about it a little harder.

Yep, sounds like a good time. Albert Hoffman style.

Quinster - February 12, 2020, 9:15 am

Wow what a question, I personally can't tell since it wouldn't be real. But I think I would also invite family and friends over for my last hours.

Yeah, it's definitely a full question indeed.

It is kind of unrealistic isn't it? :D

Dr. Einyel - February 12, 2020, 9:18 am

I would just talk with my family and make everything clear.

Vantos - February 12, 2020, 9:20 am

I would smoke a joint with my parents

Very cool, I had the duty of helping take care of my grandfather at the end of his life, it's amazing how different/open people become knowing that their time is short.

Yep, can't go wrong doing that either.

Exactly, I think about this often, especially if I became terminal.

I'd do nothing. 2 hours is not enough to decide what I want to do with my 2 hours I've left, so better do nothing than stress myself trying to do something when I won't have any time left by the end.

Yeah, stressing about the inevitable definitely doesn't help anything at all. I feel a lot of people would be so anxiety stricken to even move.

Citoa - February 12, 2020, 10:12 am

I would watch the bee movie one last time.

Just kidding. Since my family is in another town and they need at least 2 hours to get here there is no point in calling them. So I will get a big knife and stab people in the ass. I will be a pain in the ass one last time for so many people.

Ha! I want to come back as a seagull and shit on all those people from up above who shit on me. But, stabbing people in the ass.. brutal.

Vitani's Mate - February 12, 2020, 10:17 am

Probably sit on my ass and then just play games till the time is up.

No need to get all fussed about dying. It is what I lived for.

When I do die and leave this earth.. I will see you guys on the other side of the void. We will have a party.

Exactly! You've got only 2 hours left. Nothing more, nothing less. You better use them for your own good. Take your time (2 hours) and spoil yourself with something good. If you want to be with your family, okay, but do you really think that you should talk about something? You will spend your 2 hours trying to explain what? Just relax. It's inevitable as you said, so take it like a man!

Right, we are born to live, and born to die. No need to worry about either one of those things. Just enjoy every moment. Then party on Hells doorstep.

Man I cannot wait to die, it is going to be the tits. Either I will go to heaven, go to hell, be a ghost or be born into someone/something else.

I hope heaven or hell have plenty of alcohol because I will be spending most of my time at the bar drinking.. Ohh and with some hookers as well.

SNAK - February 13, 2020, 2:29 am

I would probably do the same thing as you described.

An acquaintance of mine is currently in hospice, patiently awaiting his destiny. I've been following his Facebook posts lately, and it is terrifying to see what his family is going through right now. Hopefully I drop dead out of nowhere.. Can't stand the thought of being hospitalized and spending the last days in a bed.

I understand completely. I watched/cared for a sick family member, one very close to me. The saddest thing in the world, wouldn't wish that upon anyone.

pythonalina - February 13, 2020, 6:23 am

Spend last hours with the closest people for me in the world, when the right time comes, I would say goodbye to them and leave somewhere to bridge to jump into river. I don't want to cause them more suffering or dealing with funeral expenses.

That was pretty much my response. Laugh about the good times with my close family members. In the end, the funniest of times are always remembered.

Exactly. Laughter is genuinely the spice of life and should be included in everyday in order to have a life that was worth having, in my opinion at least. My entire outlook on a relatively negative experience was flipped to a positive one solely because something broke through my shell to make me burst into laughter.

This^. I don't think some people realize how important laughter/humor really is to your health. How much more full life can be when you have genuine laughs in your life.
