Mix Equilibrium's Lounge recruitment application

Why do you use HF:

I use Hack Forums to communicate with other members, I also use it to sell and buy products from other members. I first came here to learn about graphics, Making it at the same time and even posted a few lessons on how to do such things, I have come a very long way since I first joined as I am now a hackforums Writer.

Why do you want to join Equilibrium:

I would like to join Equilibrium because I think that if the group is going to be accepting people who are active and interested in lounge posting then I sure as hell that I could make the lounge a great place, I post almost every day and I am always posting meaningful stuff.

Who are you:

Hello, I am Mix. I am a Hack Forums Writer and the leader of the group Wolfpack. I have been here at Hack Forums for over five years and honestly, I expect to be here for another ten. I know it may sound sad but the community here at Hack Forums is just amazing.

If anyone would like to use the same style of application I have made a template for you all. Enjoy!

Spaark's Application

Why do you use HF:

I started using HF in 2012, mainly due to interests in computing and crypto currency. Nowadays I just stick around because I've made a few good pals that make this place nice. I enjoy the social aspect of this site and currently am getting more active in writing blogs. I've previously lead various groups and now have one to call my own. I'm pretty approachable so I don't really confine myself to the stigma that I'm any different from any other user applying, but that being said; I've heard Equilibrium is a cool group of dudes and I think I'd be a keen addition to the team. I'd like to note that I'm not active on Skype though that is the only prerequisite I fail to maintain. I do use discord though :)

Why do you want to join Equilibrium:

I kinda mentioned this in the previous question so I'll try to keep the repeating brief. I've always enjoyed social communities on this site. Wolfpack was the first group I participated in and it was a load of fun. Just a bunch of fairly relaxed guys who loved a chat. If Equilibrium's Lounge is anything like that, I think I'd find great enjoyment out of it. So yeah, that's why I'd like to join. As for what I'd contribute, I cant boast some insane level of skill on any particular expertise. However, I think many people on this site can attest to my genuine personality and attitude. What that's worth, I guess is up to you.

Who are you:

Spaark. Nothing more, nothing less. I'm nobody to most but a quite a lot to some. Not tryna be some big shot, if you want more details about my life and subsequent accomplishments... get in touch.

And to be honest I don't see why anyone would. Discord is better in every way.

Zero's Equilibrium's Lounge recruitment application

Why do you use HF:

HF is a great place for many reason. You can learn so much from people here, get updated on so many things, meet new people from all around the world. All this sums up to the community. The best thing of HF is it's community. Without the people it was nothing and this is what I like here. I like to learn and expand my understanding of things with the help of others. Also it's fun.

Why do you want to join Equilibrium:

My answer is true as long is the group stays HQ and not another cheap buy in.

As I said before I like the community, I like people. It would be so much fun for me to get to know more HQ and dominate members. Who knows, maybe we can come up with great things to do here together and can accomplish so much.

Who are you:

Zero. There's not much to say about myself that I didn't already say. If you need more personal information I don't care sharing with you privately.

Oh shit, flashbacks from echo just hit me. I was the top poster back in echo.

Why do you use HF: To connect with people and to learn. Also to socialize with the hackermans

Why do you want to join Equilibrium: This is the kind of a group I always liked.

Who are you: So many names so many masks so many times. Read my bio. the echo flashbacks are strong.

Ps. I am not low quality shitposter. Nostalgia kicked in. Imao when people think this is real

Psilocybe - February 18, 2020, 7:28 am

Why do you use HF: I've been using Hackforums for over 5 years now to learn about a wide variety of topics and have detailed, critical discussions with other members.

Why do you want to join Equilibrium: I'd like to join Equilibrium because I am currently not apart of any groups and desire to be apart of a community such as this one.

I believe I can contribute to group discussions and activities greatly.

Who are you: I am a current college student who's majoring in Physics and minoring in Mycology. I have great passion for entheogens and love to participate in psychedelic related discussions. I'm easy going, considerate and always go out of my way to spread positivity to those around me :) If you couldn't tell by my name, I love Psilocybin mushrooms and have done years of research on them and continue to do so (Mycology minor).

AYMG - February 18, 2020, 9:04 am

AYMG's Equilibrium's Lounge recruitment application

Why do you use HF:

Mainly to sell accounts and to discuss many topics in The Lounge.

I'm also active in the Convo and other sections.

Why do you want to join Equilibrium:

To contribute as much as I can.

I'm looking for an active HF group where its members can discuss various things. From the marketplace related to astronomic questions.

Who are you:

NFA seller, you may find me in that section.

I also got active again in The Lounge so you will probably see me there too.

Sugawara - March 1, 2020, 10:19 am

Why do you use HF: It is mostly to browse news and happenings, lately just to post on daily threads for free bytes.

Why do you want to join Equilibrium: Interact with like-minded people who would try to appreciate quality conversations. More of a people(s) person, I enjoy reading people more than books. The intensity of information you could gain by interacting with a human is immense. Always up for a fruitful and healthy discussion. Not a "Yes" man.

Who are you: A software developer in his late 20s, who loves experimenting online and offline.

*Just realised I'm the only one using text and not template. I think this looks much subtle and clean.
