Thread: Group Convo system is broken.

Mix - February 18, 2020, 8:05 pm

As the title states I just tried sending a message in the convo system for the wp subgroup and then had no logs of previous chats nothing. then typed test in and refreshed and it was gone.

Private convos work for me but if I load the main convo page my CPU usage hit 35% (on an i9 :S) and my browser locks up for 30 seconds. After is starts responding again I'm unable to send messages to the main group convo, but can resume sending private convos.

Omniscient sent some large-ish selfies around the time you posted this. Every time I try to interact with one after my browser starts responding again, it locks it right back up and CPU usage shoots back up. I think you're DoS-ing me with your face, Omni.

noticed this issue a while back. Thought it was my DNS sinkhole or brave causing the issue.

Haven't noticed any issue here in the 3700x land.

Are the selfies still being loaded when you enter convo.php?

Edit: Loads fine for me now.

Nope, left the page. Re post em and I'll report my findings.

I didn't save them, unfortunately.

I believe Xerotic might fix it if he sees this.

I happened to notice the same bug but didn't get time to create a thread.

What a shame.

Have Omni send a giant selfie again, decoding the base64 string associated with that is what locked my browser up.
