Thread: [\[Suggestion\] Notification for HackGame](#)

Loukas - February 20, 2020, 8:58 pm

So when you accept a mission and start scanning the IP, I sometimes forget that I started unless I click on the HackGame and check again. What about possibly adding the option to turn notifications for the game on and off. Like when the downloads finish, mission step ends, etc.

I wouldn't be surprised if this is already been asked and answered, or ready to be put in place as the game gets updated.

What do you think?

I like the idea. To be honest, I forgot about missions many times and just lost a lot of $.

Right, that was my thought too. I'm sure he probably make the provisions once the game becomes complete.

This is a great idea. I too have forgotten about missions many times and lost tons of money for doing so.

Ah glad to see there's other people besides me that feel this way.

I have lost so much money letting missions expire...at the Same time that's part of the game.

True, but at least having the ability to turn the notifications on and off would be nice. So if you didn't want to be bothered by them, you didn't have to be.

That would be good, I like this idea OP.

Bumping this because my suggestion on this got closed, doesn't look like any admins had any input on this yet

Since the hack game is still in the early stages I would say that this idea would already be in the works behind the scenes.
