In Germany, you call retarded, brain-dead or stupid peoples a "Spack" or "Spacko".

This host is a scam, purchased a vps with what was supposed to be 1g port. The vps itself will tell you its sending up to 3g out but they are limiting the amount of traffic that leaves their network in my case was around 98mb. So mentioned issue to them and asked if could upgrade to the dedi to get a proper 1g port they said yes without hesitation completely ignoring the speed issue with the vps. I paid the difference and got the "dedi" but this time it is limited to 195-200mb (server still said 3g out so it's probably a vps as well). I messaged spack then out of the blue it turned into "300-400mbps guaranted" but still wasn't even getting that. Then they finally replied saying "We offer 1gbps full starting to medium plan" again wanting you to blindly upgrade after not getting what was advertised twice yeah that's not happening. Everybody please precede with caution because you're most likely not gonna get what is advertised.

So, you want 1gbps port speed with 1m pps on a 99$ server? So i will sell just one plan ok and everyone is fine. Jesus.

Also unmetered. Cmon, cmon, why this forum is so full of skid (and everyone know)

I don't understand why you keep trying to use that same excuse. You keep saying "what you want 10000gbps on $xxx server" etc but nobody has ever said that. The fact is you are false advertising and your logic is all over the place nobody would give a fuck what the port speed was and would probably still buy if you just listed the proper speed on your site. If all of the servers up the medium are limited to 100-200 then just put that on there and if it's such a great deal then people will still buy, but you list as 1g knowing it's not because that brings in kids that don't know what a "good" server would act like. that is the issue. You just keep getting defensive so you try to deflect by calling people skids. Just be truthful and you'd probably do even better than are now. I have been with tons of spoof hosts since 2018 multiple servers I've had ones that told me it was gonna be a 300mb port and that was fine I still bought and I've had some that had 2G ports, so it has nothing to do with the price or speed it's the fact that you're false advertising. Last thing is you should really try to just chill out, hf threads are for posting reviews and warning people of sus activity.. Most people aren't gonna have the extra money to lose on a host so I was just giving heads up on what they can expect, but you feel so attacked by everything so easily you jump on here and make your brand look bad. Saying the shit you do does not and will not make people want to buy from you it screams that you are unprofessional and don't know how to control yourself.
