Thread: [\[Unlucky \] Spent 20k Bytes on Scratchcards](#)

Lonely - March 4, 2020, 7:08 pm

Spent 20k bytes on scratchcards ($100 at $5/k)

Only won a total of 8k ($40 at $5/k)

Has anyone had any luck on scratchers lately?

(Also bet 12k bytes on sportsbook today I'll let you know how it goes)

Statistically you will lose all your bytes playing scratch cards. Unless you buy them with money during the BOGO sales you will 100% lose your money over time.

Oh damn this is kinda frustrating...you could have sold those bytes instead than spend it on scratch cards.

I have spent over 34k in 2 days and look at my total bytes now I think the system has been challenged more or something.

Whoa bro...34k bytes in 2 days? That's too much, if only I have those bytes...I would rather have it on Sportsbook to bet on NBA and NHL games that pretty exciting to watch while waiting for your bets.

Wow then I will be waiting for that giveaway bro...and luckily got one more egg on this thread but will incubate it later cause I have to get some bytes and need to post more maybe got another one and still looking for maybe a golden egg will be given by Stanley :)

I feel like the scratchers aren't that fun the same happened to me yesterday I got one for 1k bytes and didn't win anything horrible feeling. I like the blackjack and slots games though. I get addicted playing those quick.

Damn man.. I thought I was unlucky with the Scratchcards. Check this my man.

I've never had enough bytes to buy one personally. May I ask how many spins on slots it took to get the award?

This is what I always do, sad that I missed the last one due to having no crypto at the time.

I've spent 100's of thousands of bytes on scratchers. I ended up losing like 100k on 1k scratchers.

GG.

I actually made consistent profits in sports book though.

HF shows the odds lol, I wrote a basic simulation of playing 100, 1000, 100000 scratchers when I was bored. The $100 scratchers on BOGO are your best odds statistically.
