Thread: Crews Mass PM's not Working

Nuworld - March 4, 2020, 7:56 pm

I just spent the last 30 minutes composing two Mass PM' to my crew and nothing the PM's did not send and or deduct my Bytes.

I know this because my second hand man @KJ@ and I was talking together and he and or i ever received an PM.

Omniscient and or Xerotic

Something ya all might look into please.

Since the new layout was put in place the convo system broke for groups so I would expect this to be the same issue. But with crews.

It's because you don't have enough Bytes in your crew vault.

EDIT: Now that Convo exists that might be a better option.

Shit forgot about the vault. ?

As for the convo option it would work.

However it's much easier to post once in PM's to everyone
Than posting multiple times to all crew members in convo.

Unless we have crew convos?

I did not try it yet, but when you start a convo with someone you can add more members. This way you can make your own "crew convo"

Hope this helps you.

Thanks I'll give it a try in the future. ?

IMO best thing for you to do. You'll get the regular convo notification and everything that way.

Yeah and it doesn't cost me 50 bytes.

Will try it next time.

You can only have 5 members in a group chat.

Can we up it to 20 at least so we can fit a full crew in a convo?

Yes, i agree.

Kind of pointless to only have 5 convo when we have 20 members.

Then again, here's a idea.

Crew convos.

What a concept indeed. ?

I actually spoke with Xerotic about this and now I read your comments lol

Anyways I already made a thread for this

Hopefully they'll change it!
