Thread: Allow to add more users to convos groups

Zero - March 7, 2020, 11:06 pm

We now have hackuman and actually want to have a crew chat. I tried to make one but the limit is 5 users. This forces us to use another platform.

Xerotic said it should be a small number change so I guess it's up to you to decide Omniscient

There's probably nothing you can do. The reason only 5 members are allowed is likely to prevent the servers slowing down.

It's not. I spoke with Xerotic about this. Also we have group convos which have much more than 5.

Huh. I didn't know about that.

I think this would be an amazing feature, but I think something was coming more for crews. Maybe a crew chat would be nice.

I think this is necessary to add as soon as possible. Anyways Xerotic said it's literally just changing a number lol

Right now we're trying hard to get people over to discord because this is our only option. We would prefer doing this here.

I had no idea there was a 5 members limit.

Changing it will be great since I would like to discuss hackuman with my crew too.

Lmk once that drop, due to the crew I am in we don't have all of our members so it's a little annoying tbh?

We will consider doing something with Crews just like we did with Groups. We can even match the Convo Member limit to reflect the limits of the Crew sizes.

Thanks. Yea this was the idea. No need for infinite. Crew cap is good enough for this purpose.

Convo Group limit has been adjusted from 5 to 20 (to match the largest possible crew size).
