Seen some funny stuff on there but I haven't downloaded it, would waste too much time on there

Maeko - March 9, 2020, 10:53 am

I think the predators take advantage of it. To be honest I find the app annoying, but that's just me. :P

SIM-3257834 - March 9, 2020, 10:55 am

Chinese spy app used to censor and gather data on everyone. Not that it matters if you use the app I wouldn't expect much from you, let allow trust you with anything requiring brain cells.

some hot girls on it but i have the most hottest women on skype so dont care

x41N - March 9, 2020, 11:03 am

It produces rather funny content, which I find eventually on reddit, twitter etc. I don't actually view videos on the application though. Just wait for the viral ones to pop on some feed I'm on.

Wait, you're making money on TikTok? How much have you made so far? All I see lately is TikTok videos on my IG feed lol.

Geralt - March 9, 2020, 11:38 am

Cringly videos for teenagers. But it has the potential to make money if you know how to do it.

Luca - March 9, 2020, 11:42 am

Not for me at all. The comedy doesn't strike a cord with me.

TheChaosKiller - March 9, 2020, 11:53 am

Personally, I abhor it, I find it incredibly cringeworthy and that the people who actually try on there are, for the most part, losers. However, with that being said, I've used it to sell some stuff and do shoutouts and made a bit of cash here and there, so I'm professionally ambivalent.

SkullTraill - March 9, 2020, 12:26 pm

You're a filthy pedo.

Drug Problems - March 9, 2020, 12:55 pm

Terrible for entertainment purposes, in my opinion. Very lacking and no real creativity goes into it, or making 95% of them. However for content creators as you said its golden right now. It is 100% the fastest app you can grow on and turn a profit for right now so milk it while you can.

Marketing wise it's the app to be using if you're trying to build a following a lot of new updates to help creators like adding links to videos still in beta but that's a huge update for creators and brand deals. I feel like there is just a lot of misconceptions out there due to music.ly before the merger

Grim - March 9, 2020, 4:18 pm

I started running ads there with it and its been pretty successful. But as a user standpoint i think its kinda dumb i hardly found any of the videos funny there were a few but most of them i had seen already on other social medias.

Going live don't have merch set up yet but people have been asking I've just been too lazy to set it up but I make between 60-100$ a day depending how often I go live

At first when I posted this I was making 4$ per live and I've worked my way up and learned a few tricks and tips and now I got it figured out so just seeing how much it changes through the week but the last few lives have been consistent with how much money I earned.

It's definitely a lot of work though I can't lie

He wasn't giving actual advice,

Post daily - 3x +

Branch out with your content - Post the trends (with a personal touch) of course but right after the trends post your niche content to funnel views to your ACTUAL content.

Build a relationship with your followers - Engage with every single person until you can't anymore. Go live and get to know them and let them get to know you on a personal level.

This will help you feel free to DM me your username and I can take a look at your videos to see what you can do

Views don't really mean anything on tiktok if I'm being honest it's all dependent on your following and having a solid niche. But to make things simple all you have to do is go live and you have to have some sort of incentive for people to send you gifts.
