Thread: PHP/HTML Developers \$2500+ per project

frstnme - March 14, 2020, 6:09 am

I am looking for individuals who are able to develop websites from scratch, being skilled in html and creative is a must.

No 50% upfront or similar, payments are made as soon as progress is seen (es: you finish building the login page and you receive the payment)

What i need to know:

- How much free time you have
- Past works php/html

Payment only via cryptocurrencies

If you're still looking for someone to do this project, contact me! I am fairly skilled in PHP and can have various HF users vouch for this.

I can do this easily, but your payment plan doesn't work. If you can work with industry standards, then I'd be down.
