Thread: Military vehicles moving in the U.S how about your area?

The One And Only - March 20, 2020, 6:56 pm

There has been sightings of military and government vehicles being stockpiled around the us. Is anything happening in your area?

They are going to California and New York. Nothing here.

Congrats you've spotted the guard which certain states have activated.

Sillee - March 20, 2020, 7:01 pm

I'm not in the USA and I've been keeping a close eye. Lots of people say it's for the medical resources but is the resources of that magnitude actually needed when the cases just hit 20,000? That I don't know and would be worried about if I were in USA.

They're there to prevent looting and rioting but it just doesn't seem right and if that does happen; say everyone is forced to stay inside.. Good luck to the infrastructure of internet to stay online.. It will be hell and things could get really bad.

GreenMartian - March 20, 2020, 7:04 pm

They are bringing navy ships in locally to house the sick if the hospitals get over run

Klonopin - March 20, 2020, 7:07 pm

nope, its pretty chill in my area.

surprisingly

Rsynced - March 20, 2020, 7:14 pm

This is a good thing, they are preparing for the worst case scenario, it's standard protocol.

KingLeRoy - March 20, 2020, 7:50 pm

Is it world war three ? I heard north korea is launching rockets again.

Since our place was place to a community quarantine since last week...police and military take over the entry and exit points of our place.

I guess this is much better to prevent the spread of the pandemic corona virus.

No entry and no exit was being implemented...only vehicle with medical and food supplies and front liners like nurse and doctors were allowed to enter.

Hoping this tragic pandemic virus will be over in couple of days.

Keep safe everyone and may the almighty Lord bless us and the whole world.

Couple days??? Bro get used to this it's gonna be a while..

Politics is out the window, now is the time to find out if Trump can lead a country through a deadly virus. If he does properly than I think no doubt he'll be re-elected.

For the military vehicles? They just getting things prepared. Likely going to be a lot more cases in the US than Italy has rn.

Italy Population: 60.48 million
US Population: 327.2 million

Dorrance - March 20, 2020, 9:21 pm

They have to allocate resources just in case anything happens.

Some people have been called in due to the current situation of COV19.

Yeah we are told that it will a month of community quarantine.

How I wish it will be real soon...it's really hard knowing our food stocks are very limited, I had 2 child with me that needs milk and vitamins and no food supplies being rendered by the government until now.

We've got nothing from our local and national government, hoping we get some relief goods and medicines as they promised they will provide every household some foods for couple of days.

We are really worried and really helpless...we are required to get a pass for 1 head of the household if we wanna buy some groceries and medicines but most of the primary medicines and vitamins are all out of stocks, alcohol is limited to 1 500ml per person. Groceries is almost empty :(

Everything is chill here in India as of now.

Our Pm Modi has called for a Janta Curfew where everything would be shut and requested everyone to stay indoors for 14 hours!

Everything needed is still available here :)

14 hours?! That ain't gonna do shit. Lol we on lock down for 2 weeks and its only gonna get worse!
Stay safe everyone!

Maskin - March 20, 2020, 10:17 pm

Nothing in Sweden, barely doing any tests even tho we have 1600+ confirmed cases. Since test aren't being done unless you need to be hospitalized means there is way more infected here, and they even admit it. Not sure what the plan is here...

India 2020 population is estimated at 1,380,004,385 people at mid-year according to UN data. India's population is equivalent to 17.7% of the total world population.
Lol with this much population I guess it would be very difficult to keep a lockdown for weeks

Bruce Banner - March 20, 2020, 11:57 pm

Have had reports of vehicles moving around here but they sent out a response to the community saying it was pretty much business as usual and nothing out of the ordinary. People just see stuff and start spreading whatever rumors they can on facebook.

What couple of days ? Have you been living under ground for the past few weeks ?

This Coronavirus (COVID-19) will be with us for months NOT days ?

Would love it to be away in a few days we are just about on full shut down in ... Few more days we will be shut down

We have 10,000 army personal standing by

Grim - March 21, 2020, 2:17 am

Nothing where I live and I actually live in a pretty rural area but next to a military base. I havnt seen anymore activity then normal as of yet. I'm sure there just bringing new supplies to the areas needed the most

Well, I was just wishing for that to end up as soon as possible time.

I miss the times those normal days that we used to live without fears and no curfews and whatsoever regarding this CoVid-19.

If I were to be given a wish...I will wish for the world to be healed and out of this Corona virus :(

Mula-B - March 21, 2020, 2:30 am

The Dutch army has also come in action. They are gonna help move some corona patients (from the south side of Holland to the north side). They are gonna help with the transportation and also planning. In Italy is the army currently moving the dead bodies.

Yeah i really wish this would just all go away ASAP but i'm pretty sure this is just the start of a long time ahead with not knowing when it's going to end

We will just have to see what the next few days brings

When you think about things everything is changing daily

Hopefully some good time ahead and we can put all this Coronavirus (COVID-19) behind us ?

I envy China on how they face the CoVid-19 with great perseverance and people are all obedience for what is imposed and certain limitations to spread the virus.

When I go out to buy for some groceries and vitamins, I still see people who haven't have or wearing a face mask, somehow this is not just the authority to blame the those people who are not following simple instructions.

I guess those who are young ones are those who are hard ones to teach on what to do and follows the rules implemented.

Praying to God that one day we would wake up with the good news that the virus is finally over and cure is within our reach.

Perhaps difficult but India is perhaps one of the most dangerous countries if Corona gets foothold there, extreme high population density.

Here in Ohio we had a massive spike in cases and deaths overnight.
Last night we had 119 cases and one death.

This morning I wake up and see we now have 267 cases and 8 deaths.
That was 6 hours ago.

Not looking good.

The guard and military are just bodies to move supplies and work. They already get paid, so the government uses them. Honestly, nothing to be alarmed over. The guard gets activated over every little issue and crisis. the National Guard sucks anyways.
