Thread: XBOx 360 RGH: Stealth Server Leak

Hello,

Im posting this here becuae I got screwed over by owners of Frostbite Live. Im sure they & Fries /w Coke-Cola are spreading lies & rumors about me on the internet. Whats new? Some salty scrub is always talking crap about me on some forum. Instead of a lengthy story let me give it to you straight. Frostbite hired me to construct them a source. Ive made it clear to the community, that I use public sources as a base. But for whatever reason, they think I sold them a leaked source which is not true. They paid for my time(service), not a source. These guys even asked me if the source was going to cost them & I said no, I would just give it them. If they seriously thing that someone is going to sell them premium stuff for only $50, they're higher than a kite. The owner came to me pretty upset that he couldnt find a single dev to build him a server. So thats what he hired me to do. Even after I spent about 20 hours on it, frostbite blasted me for using leaked content as a base. I thought they already knew, so I did refund their money, cause I felt bad. But apparently it wasnt good enough for them, they decide to smear my name online. So here ya go, enjoy this leaked content!

thanks,

-silent
